TWO EXPLOSIONS, nearly simultaneous, demolished one six-room house and seriously damaged an adjacent home in Granada Hills, Calif. The first blast at the home (right) of William and Norma Badzik blew out every wall and crumpled the roof. The Badziks were injured. The second explosion ruined the home of Harold Jaffee but injured no one. Firemen discovered gas leaks all over the neighborhood and gas company emergency crews shut off the supply.

In The Herald Columns Today

GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY — Says that when Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to "assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation." And Michelson, according to the columnist, devoted himself effectually to the job. See the editorial page.

RAY TUCKER — Sees a lot of opposition ahead for the various schemes for spending billions without directly increasing taxes or the public debt. Tucker says a lot of the Congressional opposition will be based on the truth that you "can't pull rabbits out of even Uncle Sam's hat." Unless somebody puts them in first, that is. See the editorial page.

JAMES MARLOW — Tells about the latest political puzzle on the Washington scene: Harry P. Cain, one of the most conservative Republicans and a supporter of Senator Joe McCarthy while Cain was in the Senate from 1947 through 1952. Cain owes his job to Eisenhower, Marlow claims, but he has taken several sharp jabs at the President's way of doing things. See page 5.

SAUL PETT — Writing for Hal Boyle, describes how a young man of 13 is going through changes normal for all boys his age. Only a short time ago, his interests were centered on a boy's clubhouse, and men who are men. But then, the change came suddenly, and women entered the picture. See page 9.

Deputy Sheriff Kills Man, 37

ELYRIA (AP) — Steve Vaszi, 37, was killed today by a deputy sheriff who had been sent to Vaszi's home to investigate a report Vaszi was beating his wife and son. Vaszi was killed by a shotgun blast fired by Deputy Eugene Miller. Miller said he had scuffled with Vaszi, who he said was armed with a gun and blackjack. The dead man leaves his widow and two sons, ages 13 and 8.

Clevenger Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aides said Rep. Clevenger (R-Ohio) "continues to improve" in Bethesda Naval Hospital where he has been a patient since Jan. 7 for an intestinal ailment. Clevenger, veteran congressman from Bryan, Ohio, is still on the hospital's serious list.

Rotary To Back Community Chest

Circleville Rotary Club, at its luncheon meeting Thursday, went on record with a unanimous endorsement of the proposal to set up a Community Chest for this district. The big service group announced it would "give full and strong support" to the project if officially launched here. It was the first time a large local organization has come out publicly in support of the plan since the current discussions on it began.

Action by the Rotarians came only a matter of hours before the time set for a public meeting on the feasibility of a Community Chest here. The Circleville Chamber of Commerce, which has yet to take a stand on the question, is sponsoring the public meeting Thursday night.

The gathering is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in common pleas courtroom at Pickaway County courthouse.

CHAMBER officials were cheered by the favorable turn in the weather Thursday after Wednesday's snowfall. They pointed out it would be sure to help attendance at the meeting.

The proposed Community Chest, discussed informally in the district for several years, would replace all the local fund-raising drives. Under the plan—also frequently known as a United Appeals setup—one big campaign would be held for all the participating organizations each year.

Proceeds would then be divided among the groups, according to a prearranged ratio.

Roy Marshall is chairman of the Chamber's committee in charge of arrangements for Thursday's meeting, expected to draw a large crowd from all over the city and surrounding county.

While few public leaders were willing to go on record with their views in advance of the meeting, it was well known that the Community Chest idea has growing support. Chief problem, it appears, would be to agree on methods that would be fair to all concerned. Opponents of the Community Chest plan, in whole or part, have

Snow Tapers Off Across Nation

CHICAGO (AP) — Snow tapered off over most of the country today but moderately cold weather continued in nearly all sections. Freezing weather again today extended southward to Atlanta while in northern Florida, Cross City reported an early morning low to 36. Temperatures were mostly in the high 40s in southern Florida and southern Texas.

Coldest readings, zero and 5 below, were in Wisconsin and Michigan. Temperatures moderated a little across the plains. It was generally below freezing in most of the west except in the far Southwest and near the Pacific.

Liquor Dealers Name Officers

COLUMBUS (AP) — Herman E. Seiser of Canton yesterday was elected president of the Buckeye Retail Liquor Dealers Assn. at the end of a two-day convention. They named Lee White of Dayton treasurer and Norman C. Parr of New Philadelphia secretary.

maintained strict public silence in recent weeks. Nevertheless, it was known from private comments that the questions facing any Community Chest movement will include the following:

1. "I DON'T want to contribute to all the local organizations. I have my favorites. I'll contribute to them, but not to all. How am I going to do that under the Community Chest?"

2. "How can you operate a fair Community Chest unless you get all of the big fund-raising groups to go along with it? And who thinks that all of them will cooperate?"

3. "Maybe a Community Chest organization over a period of many years could be built up to a degree where it would bring in enough money for all. But do the Community Chest boosters claim that this can be done almost from the very beginning?"

4. "How could they ever agree on a proportionate cut of the proceeds? And who is to say how much each organization should get?"

5. "Do the Community Chest boosters here realize how the idea, and others like it, have flopped in many sections of the country? Are they trying to lead the district into the same mistakes that so many others have learned the hard way?"

6. "If we set up a Community Chest organization, who are the volunteer men and women who are going to work hard, and probably for a long time, to put it on its own feet to bring worthwhile results?"

Soviets Release Another U. S. GI

BERLIN (AP) — Pvt. William A. Verdine of Starks, La., was released by the Russians in Berlin today after six years of Soviet captivity, including a long stretch in Vorkuta prison camp in Siberia. Verdine is the third American to come from Vorkuta this month. The Soviets, according to repeated requests, turned loose John H. Noble of Detroit, and Pvt. William Marchuk of Norristown, Pa., on Jan. 8.

Verdin has been listed by the Army as missing since 1949. He had been stationed with the 14th Armored Cavalry at Coburg in West Germany, not far from the American-Soviet zonal frontier.

High Court Eyes Labor Dispute

COLUMBUS (AP) — Scioto County court decisions against picketing to "pressure" tavern employees into joining a union were taken under study yesterday by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Harry Chucales and other operators of the State Bar and Grill in Portsmouth obtained a common pleas court injunction against the picketing. An appellate court affirmed trial court action and the union appealed.

The tavern operators said there was no dispute between them and their employees. They claimed picketing was to compel hiring of unionists or to pressure employees into joining the AFL local.

Buffer Zone Urged To End Latin Conflict

Inter-American Panel Seeking To Soothe Costa Rica, Nicaragua

SAN JOSE (AP)—The inter-American investigating commission today proposed a demilitarized zone be set up along the western sector of the Nicaragua-Costa Rica border in an effort to prevent a clash between the two countries over the rebel outbreak against President Jose Figueres.

The five-nation commission made its proposal in the wake of a protest from Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza that two Costa Rican F51 fighters, on their first mission since the planes arrived Monday from the United States, had veered over Nicaraguan territory yesterday during an attack on the rebel-held town of La Cruz, seven miles from the border.

Somoza, a long-time foe of the Costa Rican President, announced four of his own fighters would patrol the border to meet any further trespassers. He said that the situation could become "an international conflict."

THE PROTEST to the commission, sent here by the 21-nation organization of American States, said the Costa Rican planes had created a "very tense" situation. The note said Nicaragua also was reinforcing its border garrisons.

Figueres, meanwhile, predicted today would see the decisive stage in his government's fight against the rebels in northwest Costa Rica. Reports from the fighting front indicated the loyalists, supported

Mystery Veils Booby Trap Bomb Death

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Deepening mystery today veiled the booby trap bomb death of attractive Mrs. Harry E. Weaver, wealthy wife of a prominent architect.

Mrs. Weaver, 52, was killed yesterday about 8:30 a. m. as she set out for a local hospital to visit her ailing mother.

A Houston businessman, questioned following officers' long conferences with Weaver, was accompanied to the Harris County courthouse by Texas Rangers and his two small children.

Four Rangers accompanied the man and the children back to their home in a well-to-do section of Houston. Neither he nor officers would discuss what took place in the long secret session.

Officers would not answer questions either about the man's identity or any other development in their hunt for the person or persons who planted the nitroglycerin bomb in a Weaver auto.

Tom Green County Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said no arrest warrants had been issued. He refused to comment about possible suspects but did say he was working with information furnished by Weaver and other members of the family.

Weaver, 60, said he was in the big, old-fashioned home of Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when the blast occurred outside. The architect and his wife formerly lived in Houston. In recent years they resided on a show-place ranch 23 miles north of here.

Navy PBV Lost In Central Pacific

HONOLULU (AP)—The Hawaiian Sea Frontier reported last night a Navy PBV was presumed down at sea somewhere in the central Pacific after radioing an SOS.

The plane normally carries up to seven men, but a Navy spokesman said it was not reported how many were on the missing craft. Planes were being readied to sweep the area and two vessels were diverted to search.

New School Buildings Here Scheduled To Open In 1956

Designs To Follow Modern One-Story Pattern; Big Addition, 3 Separate Structures Planned

Conforming to the most modern trend in one-story structures, new buildings planned in Circleville's school expansion program are expected to be ready for use in September of next year.

In behalf of the city board of education, Superintendent of Schools George Hartman made that announcement Thursday in his latest outline of steady progress being made toward major improvements. The $750,000 building program was given a green light here at the Nov. 2 elections when voters approved the necessary bond issue by a wide margin.

Since that time, all phases of the planning have been steadily under way.

Among the most noteworthy details in Hartman's latest report was the fact that all of the new buildings will be of one-story construction, a design now favored by leading school architects throughout the country. Hartman said school officials here were told that many one-story buildings are five percent cheaper in construction costs than those of two-story designs.

Among the modern planners, relatively few of the latter pattern are being built anywhere in the United States.

A TWO-STORY structure, school leaders were reminded, calls for expensive stair-well construction adding to lost interior space. They also require stronger supporting walls at extra cost, and additional plumbing and heating facilities. Such expense, it was stressed, nullifies any hopes of economy through less roofing area.

Hartman also called attention to the added convenience in handling classes in a ground-floor building.

"Our program, which will give Circleville 25 new elementary classrooms, is moving fast toward the day when everything will be in order to advertise for bids on the new construction," the superintendent said. "If everything continues to move according to plan, the contracts for all four new structures should be let in April."

The board of education recently met in special session to consider the next step in securing

Gas Firm Strikers Withdraw Pledge

LIMA (AP) — Striking distribution employees of the West Ohio Gas Co. yesterday withdrew their agreement to furnish service crews in company emergencies.

William Munger, national vice president of the CIO Utility Workers Union of America, said in a letter to company President George Vail that the men were withdrawing after Saturday night.

Union officials said the move was because the company offered "no indication of a desire to settle the strike." The employees went on strike Tuesday after their contract expired.

ing the necessary sites. It was the feeling of the board that excellent progress has been made through the cooperation of many property owners. Transfer of titles can reasonably be expected in the near future.

The board also took the necessary first step toward securing those properties which the owners did not wish to sell at the original offer. Employment of counsel was authorized and condemnation proceedings will be instituted when needed.

"Another special meeting is planned soon by the board to expedite this phase of the program. It is the board's objective to own the properties needed, and have any dwellings vacant, by April 1."

HARTMAN SAID school officials are anxious to begin construction of all four new building jobs at the same time, having been assured that several thousand dollars can be saved in this manner. In addition to three complete new buildings, the fourth structure in the program will be added rooms at the Atwater School.

$300 Million Fund For Schools Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—For more than a year, Ohio legislators and others have been taking a long, business-like look at the state's school crisis. The Ohio School Survey Committee has come up with its answers.

The bill for the next two years: $300 million in state money. The bill for the next two years under the present state subsidy program: $256 million.

That is only the financial side of the report which covers the school problem like a tent. The rest of the report likely will be discussion material for parent-teacher associations for several years to come.

About one-half dozen pieces of legislation will be submitted in the current 101st General Assembly to put most of the critical-type recommendations into effect.

The resulting legislative fight probably will be one of the hottest of the session.

AMONG THE school recommendations was one for a nine-member state board of education appointed by the governor, one member coming from each of the nine appellate court districts. Such a bill was laid before the House yesterday by Rep. Thomas L. Thomas (D-Akron), but it does not have the backing either of the school survey committee or Gov. Lausche.

The chief financial recommendation of the school study group was a change in formula by which the state's school foundation program funds are distributed to local school boards. Money now is spread around on a per-pupil basis. The proposal is to distribute it on a teacher-classroom basis.

The idea is to force schools to cut classes to 30 pupils each. The program would allocate state funds to schools on the teacher-classroom basis to a maximum of 30 pupils per class. If a teacher is required to teach 40 youngsters, for instance, his school would get no more aid than if there were 30 in the class.

In addition to reducing the number of pupils in each class, the proposal would have another side effect: Many more classrooms and teachers would be needed.

In the face of a continuing teacher shortage and an admittedly critical shortage of classroom space as the "war babies" crowd into Ohio's schools, the problems presented by the school study do not limit themselves to finances.

In addition to the school survey report, yesterday's legislative day also was marked by the appearance of Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant before the Senate Finance Committee in support of a bill to raise the salaries of all trial judges in the state.

HIS ARGUMENTS were largely a repetition of those he has presented since his late-November resignation as chief justice and his withdrawal of the resignation at the urging of Gov. Lausche. In resigning, he cited low pay and heavy administrative duties of the chief justice. He has held that position 22 years.

Indirectly, during the finance committee hearing, he lent his support to a constitutional amendment which would remove the prohibition against state officials receiving pay raises during their terms of office. A hearing on the constitutional amendment was held last night before the Senate Judiciary Committee, but without action.

A three-fifths vote of both houses of the Legislature plus a majority vote of the people is required to make a constitutional amendment effective.

Wilson's order directed Mrs. Moss' restoration to duty and said that she should be reassigned to a non-sensitive position "without access to classified information."

President Sees U. S. Future As Optimistic

'Modest' Tax Relief Hinted For Next Year; Wall Street Cautioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower handed Congress today his 10-year economic blueprint. In his message, he:

1. Reported recovery "well underway," foresaw a $500 billion output by 1965.

2. Gave strong promise of tax relief next year, but none this.

3. Cautioned that stock speculation or labor strife could damage prosperity.

4. Called for a 90-cent minimum wage, higher jobless pay.

In a glowingly optimistic economic message, Eisenhower gave virtual assurance of a "general, though modest, reduction in taxes" in 1956, made possible by a broad business recovery now in process.

He wagged a warning finger at the soaring stock market, declaring that "continued economic recovery must not be jeopardized by over emphasis of speculative activity." The government, he said, will meet its responsibility to prevent a financial boom-and-bust.

Picturing the present as a time of industrial expansion, he said labor strife often increases in such periods with "serious economic repercussions."

THE REPORT, third and last of the major presidential messages, urged the states to increase the amount, duration and coverage of unemployment compensation and called again on Congress to raise minimum wage to 90 cents.

He discouraged the proposals of labor leaders and some Democrats for a wage floor of $1 or $1.25 an hour. The 15-cent increase, he said, is all that can be "economically justified." A higher minimum might cause lower production and substantial unemployment in several industries. He proposed, however, that Congress consider extending minimum wage protection gradually to 20 million workers not now covered.

These were among 33 recommendations in the 207-page report. But Eisenhower stressed that government's role in helping to achieve the 40 per cent production rise needed to reach a $500 billion annual output of goods and services in 1965 will be primarily that of encouraging private initiative, curbing monopoly and avoiding encroachment on industry.

Most of the specific recommendations underscored requests made in the earlier State of the Union and budget messages. Eisenhower asked Congress to:

Promote foreign commerce by extending for three years the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with presidential power to reduce tariffs by as much as 15 per cent.

CD Chiefs Call For U. S. Alert

COLUMBUS (AP)—Directors of Civil Defense in seven states and the District of Columbia yesterday agreed to ask federal officials for a countrywide air raid drill next June, with full public participation.

Ending a two-day fact-finding conference here, the state CD heads from Region Two said the test would advance the development of local programs and stimulate public interest.

The first nationwide test since World War II was held last June, but each city was given the option of using public participation.

President Sees U. S. Future As Optimistic

April 1. By next year, Eisenhower said, rising revenues and further federal economies "should make possible another step in the reduction of taxes."

TAKE ACTION "this year to help meet our nationwide needs for school construction." The President again did not specify the kind or amount of federal aid he has in mind. A special message will be sent Feb. 15, he said, dealing with "appropriate" plans.

Give the President power to tighten credit terms and increase down payments on federally underwritten mortgages when inflation threatens, and relax the terms when real estate slackens.

Authorize 35,000 public housing units in each of the next two years, and increase the mortgage-insuring authority of the Federal Housing Administration.

Sharpen the teeth of the Sherman antitrust law by raising "substantially" the maximum fines.

Extend the program of small business loans which expires June 30, and increase the lending authority.

Let the government put $25 billion, largely raised by bond issues of a proposed independent authority, into a 10-year $101 billion highway construction program in partnership with the states.

Increase the ceiling on the national debt. The limit now is temporarily at $281 billion and is being crowded; on June 30 it reverts to $275 billion.

Williamsport Man Sought By Patrol

A 21-year old Williamsport motorist whose car overturned after missing a curve, critically injuring a female passenger, is being sought by Franklin County authorities.

The driver, who was also injured, was treated and released from a Columbus hospital. However, a short time later, the State Patrol discovered that he was wanted in Franklin County.

The accident occurred on Route 104, one mile north of Route 665, according to the State Patrol in Columbus. Miss Gertrude N. Adams is listed as being "not good" by White Cross Hospital officials.

Miss Adams allegedly suffered head and internal injuries when the car failed to negotiate a curve and overturned. The driver was treated for minor bruises.

Officers Re-Elected By School Board

Carl C. Leist, Circleville attorney, was re-elected president of the city board of education at the organization's annual meeting.

Robert Brehmer Jr. was re-elected vice-president. Other members of the board are Ray Davis, James I. Smith and Mrs. Walter Heine. Clerk for the board is Virgil M. Cress.

The board set the first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m., as time for its meeting through the year.

School Building Program Makes Progress Here

larger than any of the three separate new buildings.

It has already been stressed that a major aim in the big program will be to create adequate neighborhood schools, near the homes of the pupils in grade one through grade six.

With this in mind, it will be necessary to build a seven-room building in the Southend, bringing the classroom total for that locality to 13. This will permit a kindergarten and two rooms of each grade from one through grade six.

All the elementary pupils will be moved out of the present Corwin building to make room for grades seven through 12. A new six-room building will be constructed for Corwin for the needed neighborhood elementary unit, grades one through six.

Franklin will have a new four-room building facing Mound St. This will give the Franklin neighborhood a school of 13 units, making possible the same grade arrangement as that planned for the Southend.

IN CONNECTION with plans for the Franklin building, Hartman emphasized that all of the structures will be constructed with future additions in mind.

"I want to underline this point, especially in reference to the relatively small Franklin building," he said, "because we don't want the public to feel that the blue-prints we follow at this time are losing sight of the years ahead of us. Our buildings will all be designed with facilities for future enlargements—a forward-looking policy to be followed in the placing of gas lines, electrical wiring, furnace room locations, and so forth."

The present building at High Street has six rooms and will care for grades one through six. This neighborhood school, officials explained, will meet needs similar to the six-room school at Corwin.

The only addition structure included in the building program is marked for the Northend, where eight rooms will be added to the Atwater building. Upon completion of this work, that neighborhood will have the same grade facilities as those in the Southend.

He was fatally stricken about 1:30 p. m. while completing a business transaction at a coal mine near McArthur.

Mr. Gibson was born Feb. 11, 1897 in Ratcliffburg, Vinton County, a son of Henry and Amanda Sickles Gibson.

He was a member of the Williamsport Methodist church, where he was a trustee and a member of the official board of directors. He also was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America Lodge of Williamsport.

SURVIVING HIM are his father; his wife, Marie McAfee Gibson; a son, Harold of Jackson Township; a brother, Orsie of Kingston; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Wilson of Kingston and Mrs. Frank Christian of near Amanda, and three grandchildren, Yvonne, Linden and Billy Gibson.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Williamsport Methodist church with the Rev. John DeVoll, the Rev. J. H. Sudlow and the Rev. Cecil Swearingen officiating. The Hill Funeral Home of Williamsport is in charge of arrangements.

Orient Youth Has Annapolis Chance

An Orient youth has been named first alternate in entry examinations for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

The district youth, Phillip Leon Neff, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell H. Neff of Orient Route 1, thus ranks next to the principal nominee, Edward C. Webster, 17, of Columbus. Final appointment will depend on outcome of the examinations.

The principal nominee and three alternates were named Wednesday by Senator John Bricker, of Ohio.

John Henry Cherry, 80, of Mt. Sterling, was injured fatally Thursday when he was struck by a train at a crossing in Columbus.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FRANK HURTT
Frank Blair Hurtt died at 9 a. m. Thursday in the R and M Nursing Home on S. Scioto St., following an extended illness.

Mr. Hurtt was born Jan. 10, 1869 in Circleville, a son of James and Eliza Palmore Hurtt.

Surviving him is a sister, Miss Mary Hurtt of 165 E. High St.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Mader Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Charles Reed officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call in the chapel Friday afternoon and evening.

JERRY RUSSELL
Jerry Lee Russell of 611 Clinton St. died at 5 p. m. Wednesday in the residence.

Jerry was born Jan. 12, 1947 in Boone, N. C., a son of Wendell and Beulah Johnson Russell.

Surviving him in addition to his parents are a sister, Jeanette, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Vilas, N. C., Mrs. Edith Rambo of Circleville and John Russell, also of Circleville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. Melvin Maxwell officiating. Uncles of the boy will serve as pallbearers. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery by direction of the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Friends may call in the funeral home until Friday noon.

State Truck Stolen Wednesday Night

A state-owned truck was apparently stolen from in front of the Darby Tavern Wednesday night.

John Stage, 47, of Derby, told the State Patrol he had stopped at the tavern to discuss tree cutting with another man. Due to the fact that the truck had a bad ignition switch, plus the battery being low, he left the motor running while he went inside.

Later, when he returned, the truck was gone. Missing too are power saws in the back of the truck, which is a 1954 yellow pickup truck.

by aerial bombing from a converted airliner, were trying to outflank the rebels and cut them off from the border over which Figueres charges they came.

These reports said government troops continued yesterday to push the rebels into a tight pocket near the Nicaraguan border. More skirmishing, which broke off at nightfall, again was reported in the area of Santa Rosa plantation, 20 miles from the border.

The general staff said the rebels were making "preparatory movements." Although the skirmishes were referred to as big battles in the local press, observers said they actually were more like guerrilla clashes with few casualties on either side.

'Short Change' Racket Pulled

The old "short change" racket was successfully used at Gallagher's Drug Store Wednesday afternoon.

A customer came in and asked for a pack of cigarettes. He gave the sales girl a $20 bill. Just as he got the change, he "discovered" he had a smaller bill.

He took back the $20 and gave the girl a $10 bill and then repeated the process. Shortly after he walked out, the sales girl realized what had happened.

A quick check of the cash register proved out her suspicion. Although the police were notified, the man had disappeared.

Police said that in this type of operation the "artists" leave town quickly.

ELECTRICITY is STILL your BEST BUY!

Six hundred shaves . . . that's well over a year of comfortable shaving for just one penny's worth of electricity. With an electric shaver you can shave while fully dressed . . . no muss or bother with brushes and lather. No face-chapping in cold weather, either.

Divide your electric service bill by the number of days in the month. You'll see that pennies per day pays for all the electricity you use. That's why electricity is still your best buy.

Many Keeping Eye On Huge Highway Fund

$101 Billion Outlay Seen Going To Varied Building Products

NEW YORK (AP)—Many businessmen have an eye on that 101 billion dollars that may be handed out over the next 10 years for roads.

The program would provide a good steady market for many products — cement, steel, earth moving machinery. And new road building processes and products are being developed.

If highways improve to a point where you can enjoy driving again, instead of spending your Sundays in traffic jams, it will make the selling task of the auto salesman easier, and doubtless inspire Detroit to greater production.

Steel mills will be busily turning out material for bridges, ramps, guard rails, signs, and miles of steel fence. But there's a lot more steel that doesn't meet the eye. Much goes into reinforcing concrete roadways as traffic grows heavier. And there's the lowly culvert.

More than 1 million tons of steel went into highway projects in 1954, when federal, state and local agencies spent about four billion dollars on roads. This year spending is expected to go up by almost one billion more, and steel consumption to approach two million tons.

But if the big spending plan is adopted by the federal and state governments, the American Road Builders' assn. estimates that highway construction will increase rapidly till it hits a peak stride of around 11 billion dollars in 1958, where it would stay until 1965. This would require about 5 1/4 million tons of steel products each year.

New wrinkles in the use of steel in highway construction are stressed by engineers of the Truscon Steel Division of Republic Steel. Expansion cracks — those tar-filled ridges over which your car click-clicks at high speed — can be eliminated by a process of continuous reinforcement, the engineers say. This increases the quantity of steel bars used for reinforcement — to the delight of steel company salesmen — but cuts down on the thickness of concrete needed to sustain traffic weight.

King sized corrugated tubes are also finding an increased market as culverts. Corrugation gives five to seven times the strength of uncorrugated tubes, engineers say, and the big tubes don't crack under the increasingly heavy loads that today's highways take, as the old stone and concrete culverts sometimes do. The big tubes are used to carry water under the roads, but also sometimes as passageways for people or livestock.

Pre-stressed steel girders are helping to reduce the weight of highway bridges. They are made by Stressteel Corp. from a technique developed in Britain. Steel bars, placed in beams when the concrete is poured, are pulled up hydraulically to extreme tension. Engineers explain that under this built-in tension the lighter beams can hold a heavy weight, just as can a row of books when squeezed together by your hands. Relax the pressure and the weight would send the books plunging to the floor.

Eisenhower Replies To Budget Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—In reply to Democratic criticism that his administration has again failed to balance the budget, President Eisenhower said yesterday he wanted to read a bit from a speech he made Oct. 2, 1952 in Peoria, Ill.

A paragraph from the text of that speech said: "My goal, assuming that the cold war gets no worse, is to cut federal spending to something like 60 billion dollars within four years. Such a cut would eliminate the deficit in the budget and would make way for substantial tax reduction."

A big tax reduction went into effect last year. The new budget calls for spending $62,408,000,000.

'Flakes' Do Fall

French Woman Freed In Slaying

PERPIGAN, France (AP)—One of France's most sensational postwar murder trials ended early today with the acquittal of Marguerite Marty on charges she poisoned her cousin Mrs. Jeanne Candela to get the cousin's husband.

During the nine-day hearing, Miss Marty admitted the husband, Eulogio Candela, was her lover but she denied poisoning his wife. She charged police beat her repeatedly in an effort to get a confession.

From the witness stand, police inspectors denied the charge. A court-appointed doctor testified she had been beaten but did not indicate who did it.

DeMolay Plans Ceremony Here Next Monday

The Circleville DeMolay Chapter will have inspection in both the Initiatory and DeMolay degrees, by District Deputy Robert Stewart of Newark, next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple at Circleville.

The class, being fairly large, will put the local chapter over the mark of 100 members. The chapter started with a charter member class of 50 members on Oct. 3, 1953.

Two of the members are serving in the armed forces, Gene Maynard, of Seyfert Ave, is in U. S. Navy training at the officers school at Glenview, Ill. and David Henkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Henkle, is serving aboard an aircraft carrier. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies next Monday evening.

On Tuesday evening, the Circleville chapter will travel to Chillicothe to confer both the Initiatory and DeMolay degrees on a group of Chillicothe boys, who will become members of the Circleville Chapter. Chillicothe does not have a DeMolay branch. This meeting, at the Masonic Temple in Chillicothe, will be open to all DeMolays with their credentials and all Master Masons in possession of their current identification.

Master Masons and DeMolays of Circleville who have cars are asked to be at the Masonic Temple in Circleville not later than 6:15 p. m. to furnish transportation for members who need it.

Farm Program Slated For Much Study

Rural Bloc In Congress Seen Stimulating New Opposition To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic efforts to stimulate opposition to the Eisenhower administration's agricultural programs in the hope of winning the 1956 farm vote will get a lot of attention in the two-year life of the new Congress.

It is already apparent that administration program critics will make an effort to get the Democratic-controlled Congress to vote to repeal the key feature of that program—flexible farm price supports — and restore high, rigid price floors.

But whether the Democrats will make an all-out effort to wipe the GOP program off the books this year or next is a matter party leaders have not yet announced.

Some Democrats argue for action next year, just ahead of the presidential campaign. They say action then would have much greater vote-pulling effect because, in their language, farmers by 1956 "will have suffered a year" of flexible price supports and be eager to vote for a change at the White House.

Administration farm leaders dispute that, saying farmers will be pleased by the working of the new system. They say, too, that President Eisenhower would veto such legislation and that the Democrats do not have enough votes to pass it over a veto.

Some Democrats, while conceding a veto would stand, retort that it would make the Republicans less popular with farmers.

Regardless of what Democratic strategy is adopted, Secretary of Agriculture Benson and his aides express confidence that flexible supports will be a less important issue in the 1956 campaign than they were last November. In this latter election, the Republicans lost no normally Republican rural congressional districts.

Benson says he believes the worst is over for farmers in what he calls a period of readjustments from abnormal war and postwar demands for farm products.

But Democratic farm leaders express fear that things will grow worse for agriculture. They point to: (1) Farm prices, which declined 25 per cent since 1951 and six per cent in 1954, show no immediate signs of improving; (2) farm surpluses continue to mount; (3) net farm income continues to fall while national income continues upward; and (4) farm operating costs continue near record high levels.

Many Democrats predict that the flexible price supports will operate to pull prices and income lower. The flexible system, which goes into effect this year, is designed to help guide farm production. Under it, price floors would be low in times of surpluses to discourage overproduction and to encourage greater consumption, and high in times of shortages to encourage greater production and to hold down consumption.

Benson agrees that price supports this year and next may average lower than they did during the war and postwar period. But he contends efforts now being made to dispose of surpluses and to cut down production of surplus products will, by 1956 election time, put agriculture on firmer foundation than that on which it rests today.

Russians Barred In New U. S. Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has barred Russian citizens from sketching or photographing military objects, railway stations, radio installations or other places or things in this country having possible strategic value.

The ban is comparable to one which the Soviet Union has imposed on American citizens and other foreigners in Russia.

Secretary of State Dulles gave formal notice of the action in a note to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarouhin. It applies to all Soviet citizens in this country except those for whom the United Nations is responsible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Latest political puzzle: Harry P. Cain, one of the most conservative Republicans and a supporter of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) while he was in the Senate from 1947 through 1952.

Last month McCarthy accused President Eisenhower of a "shrinking show of weakness" in dealing with Communists at home and abroad. Now Cain blasts Eisenhower's program for getting security risks out of the government as too tough.

In a speech at Spokane, in his home state of Washington, Cain told Republicans the Eisenhower program needed major overhauling to be sure government employees are dealt with justly.

Cain owes his present job to Eisenhower. The President appointed him a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board in April, 1953, five months after he had been defeated for re-election by Henry M. Jackson, a Democrat.

If Cain has ambitions for the 1956 Senate election it will have to be against another Democrat, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, a man with effective vote-getting ability in the Northwest.

Cain has been out of the political limelight since he went to work on the SACB which was set up to decide whether the Communist party and Communist fronts are Moscow agents.

The SACB can be a political graveyard for its members, who seldom make speeches, at least controversial ones. Cain, who talked much in the Senate, has been practically unheard of from 1953 until now.

As if in answer to a question about his viewpoint, Cain told the Spokane Republicans: "For the better part of two years I have been sitting, listening and thinking."

In the Senate, he said, he "lost sight of some fundamentals which have returned to focus during the past two years."

In the Senate Cain backed the proposed constitutional amendment of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit the treaty power of the President.

Cain was for declaring war on Red China during the Korean War. He wanted to blockade the China coast. He wanted to use tactical atomic weapons in Korea.

McCarthy has often used the phrase—"soft on communism"—to express his criticism of the way the government handled the problem of getting rid of subversives.

But in Spokane Cain, reviewing the antisubversive measures used by both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, said: "To those of you who have thought your government has been soft on communism, I would urge a consideration of the following developments."

He listed the antisubversive measures.

Cain offered seven recommendations he said would make the Eisenhower security program more fair. At his news conference yesterday Eisenhower said no responsible official in his administration, so far as he knew, had received the recommendations from Cain.

Then the reporter asked whether Wilson's position had the President's "considered approval." Eisenhower replied that it certainly couldn't be said to bear his considered approval although the matter long has been under study by administration officials.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yesterday, a reporter called President Eisenhower's attention to Secretary of Defense Wilson's statement made Tuesday favoring increased trade with Communist countries in non-strategic goods.

Johnny Evans Receives New Dealership

Johnny Evans, local automobile executive, has been appointed the Packard dealer here for service and sales, Clare E. Briggs, vice president of the Packard division, Studebaker-Packard corporation, announced Wednesday.

A display of new models has already opened at the agency, Johnny Evans, Inc. 115 Watt Street.

Evans will begin to provide service for Packard cars immediately. His modern service facilities have been completely equipped with Packard parts and accessories. Intensive training courses for his service staff have been carried out during the past two months with emphasis on the new type of suspension and transmission being installed for the first time in American production cars.

The new dealer has been in business for 14 years. Service manager of the firm is Lloyd Graves.

COMMENTING ON Packard's new business affiliation in this city, Briggs said that one of the results of the formation of Studebaker-Packard as the fourth full-line manufacturer in the automobile industry has been an increase in dealer representation. The new company is now close to its objective of service in 4,000 key cities across the country.

Briggs said the dealership here is one of the first to secure a franchise under this program. The dealer will handle the Packard cars in a higher price field and Clippers in the medium priced market.

Customer Kills, Robs Bartender

CLEVELAND (AP)—A customer climbed on the bar, shot the bartender dead, and escaped with an undetermined amount of money from a tavern in suburban Lyndhurst yesterday.

Joe Fina, 40, manager of his father's tavern, was shot once through the heart by a man who suddenly crawled onto the bar, announced "this is it," whipped out a pistol and pulled the trigger.

The gunman ordered five other customers out of the bar. Detectives said the cash register was emptied and Fina's empty wallet was found in an alley.

The upper range of human hearing is about 18,000 cycles a second.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's food stores, seeking good buys for weekend shoppers in the face of rises in wholesale meat prices, have come up with a variety of specials this week.

Quite a number of stores will feature turkeys, and in some cases prices will be down around six cents a pound from a week ago.

Smoked hams also will be advertised at lower prices by some markets. Other specials mentioned by a number of stores: Sirloin steak, fresh picnics, pork butt, loin of pork, chuck roast or steak and bacon. There also will be occasional specials on fryers, roasting chickens and fowl.

One buyer of meat for a large chain said that beef, lamb, veal and pork were higher at wholesale this week. He said that good value can still be found in various cuts of pork and lamb, nevertheless.

Another big chain will be selling lamb steaks and prime ribs this coming weekend at about the same prices as a week ago. But pork chops will be up anywhere from four to 10 cents a pound. This same chain is hiking frying chicken price tags from two to eight cents a pound.

Despite beef's present high price levels, the American Meat Institute is predicting that beef will remain America's most popular meat during 1955. It figures Americans will consume 76.7 pounds of beef per person this year. Pork, which used to be the favorite, will be consumed at a rate of 64 pounds per person.

The institute also says some of the most nutritious meats are found at the bottom of the butcher's price list: Kidney, brains, heart, tongue, oxtail, and pork and beef liver. These are fine protein foods, says the meat institute, and excellent sources of iron and vitamins. It adds that most experienced buyers look for a glossy appearance in kidney, heart and liver.

The list of outstanding buys in vegetables is dwindling with the arrival of colder weather. Produce men favor nearby potatoes, onions, old crop cabbage and turnips.

Rated as good buys are iceberg lettuce, pascal and golden heart celery, peppers, greens, dry type sweet potatoes and new cabbage. The smaller sizes in celery will give you the best value, they say.

Corn went up rather sharply this week. Supplies are light. In fruits, your best bets are tangerines, oranges, grapefruit, apples and avocados.

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has ordered a decision by Feb. 19 in an international custody tangle over nine-year-old Rosemary Cropper of Portsmouth.

The youngster's mother, Mrs. Grace Providence Catania Laurent of Tunis, Tunisia, has petitioned the court to take custody of Rosemary from her grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Cropper, Portsmouth.

Mrs. Laurent said the girl was born to her and Top Cropper Jr., Portsmouth, whom she married while he was serving with the U.S. armed forces in Tunisia.

The girl came to this country in 1947, the petition said, and has been here since. Cropper was killed in Portsmouth in a traffic accident Jan. 3, 1952.

Young Women Said Best Drivers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies announced flatly today young women drivers are better insurance risks than young men.

Effective Feb. 1, rates for women drivers under 25 will be cut 20 to 67 per cent, Executive Vice President Bowman Doss announced. Male drivers in the same group still will pay the present rates.

Doss said safe driving tests showed the young women "simply are safer drivers. They drive like adults so they'll get adult rates."

BOMBS AND POSTERITY

THE PRONOUNCEMENT by two University of Illinois scientists about the long-term genetic and other effects of hydrogen bomb explosions echo warnings heard recently from scientists in Europe.

The Illinois authorities did not estimate how many of the bombs it would take to poison the atmosphere and assure "creeping suicide" of the human race. Two Frenchmen, Nobel Prize winner Louis de Broglie and Charles-Noel Martin, recently have said 10 would do the job, this being perilously near the number already exploded by Americans and Russians.

Valid or not, these warnings have attracted wide attention in Europe. The effect is to pose a moral and political problem for our country, which relies far more than Russia needs to on nuclear weapons for its defense. It is we who have exploded the most H-bombs to date, and who have now acknowledged guilt by our agreement to indemnify the Japanese for loss of life and property caused by our test explosions.

In a note to Tokyo a promise to take "every possible precaution" in the future implied that more tests are planned. This will require reconsideration unless there is early and convincing refutation of the warnings by the scientists. Our country should not bear the onus of heedlessly contributing to an effect claimed to threaten the extinction, however distantly, of life on earth.

As it now stands, the moral burden is borne more by Russia for her stubborn rejection of steps by which the menace of nuclear weapons might have been ended.

History continues to come in a flood. Mankind will be happier when the torrent subsides.

There is a saying, "And this, too, shall pass away." When a taxpayer looks at the national debt, however, he has his doubts.

At the annual automobile show in Chicago, most of the models were new except the gals in the bathing suits.

Growing boys should eat more than their fathers, says a food expert, who evidently never saw a growing boy eat.

Radio is only 35 years old. But some of the jokes had a long running start.

What the American people need to learn, according to one writer, is the difference between right and wrong. Apparently too many already know, but have just made a bad choice.

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days

When Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation. Michelson devoted himself to the job affectionately. Hoover's career was investigated from the day of his birth and when nothing could be found to hurt his good name, it was manufactured with cynical skill.

This is the classical example of organized, subsidized character assassination. Herbert Hoover survived but many of those who sought to sully his good name have since died, including Charley Michelson who wrote a book on his infamies. Hoover, being a Quaker, has long forgiven the assassins; what is more, he has come to be on friendly terms with some of them, not taking their conduct too seriously. However, of Michelson's falsehoods persist to this day to Mr. Hoover's amusement at the folly of men.

Nowadays, it has become improper to tell not only stories but the truth about political opponents, lest it involve "character assassination" which is a meaningless term politically because all politicians practise self-praise and point to the foibles of their adversaries. If the foibles are sufficient to bring about a man's defeat, it is generally regarded as the thing to do. But one must always expect the boar that has been stuck to shout, "Character assassin!"

When Woodrow Wilson was President, a smearing campaign was stimulated by his enemies dealing with his private life. This effort to destroy his character culminated in the hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee concerning the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the Supreme Court.

Brandeis was innocent of any relationship to President Wilson's private life and if ever there was an attempt at character assassination, it was bringing him into the matter at all. But nobody called it such a fancy name then; they called it politics played to embarrass a President. That office was at that time not regarded as sacrosanct and no President dared to take himself too seriously.

Those who make such a big noise about character assassination engage in that art themselves when it is to their advantage. For instance, Senator Neuberger, the fledgling from Oregon, accused Vice President Nixon of character assassination, whereupon he proceeded to assassinate Nixon's character. Everybody's doing it, more or less. The constancy of a habit does not make it right, but when the pot calls the kettle black, the kettle might, with justice, do some hissing, which apparently Mrs. George Malone did.

Actually the looseness of our conversation concerning public men has this virtue, that it may occasionally remind the great men who govern us that they were not to the manner born, as indeed, no one is in our land where the sons of farmers and workers and miners emerge to the top. It is lese majeste to run down a king or a queen because they have purer blood than we have, not biologically but genealogically, if that matters. Here there are no genealogies that matter. The only recent President that owned one was Franklin D. Roosevelt whose ancestors were something or other before they migrated from Holland and France to live among the Indians.

Insulin Offers Hope To Those With Diabetes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MORE than 30 years ago, the discovery of insulin provided new hope for diabetics. Since then, science has carried on ceaseless research to develop insulin that will be effective for longer periods of time. And science has finally succeeded.

Three Types Available

Three types of insulin are now available for diabetics. The type, or mixture of types your doctor prescribes for you, depends upon the severity of your condition.

Regular insulin, which was the only type available for many years, acts rapidly, and has its maximum action in one to three hours. Within another few hours it loses its usefulness. Injections may have to be administered as frequently as four times a day.

For Emergencies

In emergencies, quick-acting regular insulin is usually called for. It is useful, too, as supplementary injections.

Slower but longer acting insulins are globin zinc insulin and protamine zinc insulin. Their maximum effect is produced within about 18 hours, and they retain much of their power for about another 24 hours.

Globin zinc insulin is made by combining regular insulin with protein (globin) and small amounts of zinc. In protamine zinc insulin, protamine, derived from fish eggs, is combined with insulin and small amounts of zinc.

Only One a Day

By using a mixture of these various insulins, it is possible to produce an immediate effect as well as a lasting one. Thus, only one injection a day may be required.

Recently, the American Diabetes Association reported new progress. A Danish investigator has discovered that by combining various amounts of zinc with insulin, without adding globin or protamine, the action of regular insulin can be prolonged to between eight and 36 hours. While clinical study of this new method is still in progress, the Association reports tests thus far are encouraging.

One advantage of this new insulin combination, called lente insulin, is that no foreign protein is used. Since some persons are allergic to these proteins, lente insulin gives promise of being allergy free.

It's important that diabetics don't get too much insulin. It's just as bad if the insulin in your blood is too great in proportion to the sugar as it is if it is too little. In fact, this is likely to produce symptoms even more quickly.

There are many symptoms which might indicate that you have too much insulin in your blood. You might feel very nervous, perspire around the neck and lips, feel weak and have poor muscle control, be extremely hungry, have headaches before eating, feel pressure around your chest or have double or blurred vision.

Giddy Sensation

Sometimes this produces a feeling of drunkenness in which you say and do things you ordinarily wouldn't. Sometimes, you lose consciousness. But luckily, these attacks are seldom fatal.

Fortunately, too, the care for these attacks is quick and simple. Eat or drink something sweet if you feel a reaction approaching. Take lumps of sugar, candy or a sweet fruit. If you're receiving protamine zinc insulin, you should also eat something containing starch such as soda crackers, for instance.

In case you're unconscious, an injection of sugar by a doctor will bring you around.

For just such emergencies, you should always carry a couple of cubes of sugar and a card stating that you are a diabetic. Then if you have an attack, passersby will either know how to aid you or will summon a doctor who can.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. H. Z.: Is it likely that one who has phlebitis later will develop some form of heart disease?
Answer: Phlebitis has nothing to do with heart ailments. The occurrence of phlebitis would not make it more likely that a person would develop heart disturbance.

Webster, "legerdemain" means "light of hand," "sleight of hand," or "any artful trick."

DEVICE—The road program, however, is only the most grandiose of similar devices. The plan for Dixon-Yates instead of TVA construction of a steam power plant is designed to prevent imposition of another $107 million on the public debt.

Another involves financing of new federal buildings throughout the land. Private firms will build them for 30-year lease to the government, which will own them at the end of that period. This same method could be applied to building battleships, with only slight modifications of terms.

OUTLAYS—These devices do spare Washington immediate financial outlays and political embarrassments. But, as Byrd notes, they cost many more millions in the long run, and they do not relieve the government of ultimate responsibility.

In event of difficulties of default, the Treasury must bail them out in order to preserve the people's faith in their government's credit and solvency. What Byrd says, in effect, is that not even all-powerful Uncle Sam can get something for nothing!

HAWK WATCH

By BRANDON BIRD

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

I TOLD myself there was Law, capital L, to take care of this thing. So far, they'd found Harrison Purcell's car. I ought to go to them. I could see myself telling a state police corporal about the thing that was bothering me—a man I'd seen on Spine Rocks. Trying to identify someone I'd never seen less than a mile away. And anyway, that was Saturday. They didn't find the car till Monday—nowhere near the rocks.

I stopped stalling and faced it. I didn't want the state police up there working on that girl.

I changed into slacks and a sweater and put on my bush jacket. I wasn't sure about the Leica. Taking it yesterday had been like tying a label on myself. I decided it wouldn't hurt to have it along if I wanted to be the conversational camera amateur for anyone else. I slung it around my neck, picked up my soft hat from the dresser and went downstairs.

Outside, it was still cold and cloudy. I climbed in the Jaguar and pulled on a pair of pigskin gloves, snapping the straps at my wrists. It took a while for the engine to warm up but by the time I was headed down the valley it was making a sound like a contented pine tree in a breeze.

Near the crossroads I pulled to a stop by a big snagbark hickory on the edge of a field where a man in an old coat and overalls was sitting, doubled over, on a pile of fodder husking corn.

I climbed out and stepped across a ditch to the fence. He turned to one side and spit at the ground, making a ducking motion with his head like a chicken pecking grain. He didn't nod or acknowledge me but went on husking corn as if he had to meet a due date.

When I spoke, I got the idea he was a little disappointed as if I had muffed the punch line but I went on.

"Do you mind if I take a picture of your corn field? Those shocks make a nice pattern."

He looked me over and seemed to decide I wasn't kidding him. "Go ahead. Never had no time to fool with pictures, myself. Always had somethin' more important to git done."

He was one of those weathered, ageless men and his hatchet face watched me with a mild sneer but it was completely without malice. For a moment I couldn't understand what made it that way and then I realized his upper lip was caved in for lack of teeth. What ever had happened to his front teeth hadn't spoiled his action further back, judging from the way he handled his tobacco.

I went through the routine of focusing and shooting without actually tripping the shutter but it seemed to convince him. After I'd closed the carrying case I leaped on his fence and confided that I'd always thought farmers would be interesting.

We talked about the chance of rain or whether it would be snow. After we got that off our chests I said, "Yesterday, while I was taking some pictures up on Third Hill mountain, I met a colored man who said the people he worked for kept falcons. After I left him I wished I'd asked where the place was. I'd like to get some shots of a falcon. Do you know where I could find him?"

"I'd like to get a shot at their hawk but it won't be with no camera." He slammed an ear of corn onto the pile beside him.

"You know the man I mean?" "Anson Metcalf who has them hawks."

"Do you know the help up there?" I asked.

"Ought to," he grunted. "Lived in this valley all my life."

He unfolded himself and stood up, long and sinewy like one of the branches on the hickory tree I was under. He limped a few steps to one side and spit again, carefully, taking pains to miss the pile of yellow ears of corn.

"One of the hands up there used to be a great one for the bottle." He sniffed and rubbed his nose with his gloved hand.

"Is this a colored man you're talking about?" I asked.

He bent and picked up another ear of corn.

"None. This was a white man."

"What about the colored man they have?"

"You been talkin' to their old woman Cricket?"

"No," I said. "It was a colored man. Metcalf sounds like the name he mentioned. He said he was a hired man on the place."

He examined the unhusked ear in his hand. "Someone's been beessin' you, mister. There ain't been any hands hired on that place since Anson Metcalf took over. Or any work done, neither. They used to be good fields up there that's grown to woods now. Anything gits done there is done by old Cricket an' she's past amountin' to anything." He ripped the husk from the ear of corn. It made a sound like wrapping paper.

He slammed on the brakes, the car sithered through a puddle and the engine went dead with a gurgle that sounded like a sigh of relief.

news behind the news

WASHINGTON—The various Eisenhower-Humphrey schemes for spending billions without directly increasing taxes or the public debt face solid opposition in Congress on the ground that "you can't cut rabbits out of even Uncle Sam's hat" if you have no rabbits on hand before the act.

The program of off-bounds financing has already been denounced as "evasion, deception and legerdemain" by the Democrats' spokesmen and acknowledged authority on this subject. He is Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who has gained new authority in this field as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

ECONOMY—Although generally friendly to Eisenhower, Byrd feels deeply on this question. Disregard of his demands for greater economy and more prudent management of public money could easily transform him into a foe of the Administration, as it turned him against F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman.

As of today, there seems little doubt that the Virginian would command a majority in both chambers, Republicans and Democrats. The White House is extremely alarmed over the Byrd dissent, for it is upon Southern Conservatives of his type that Ike must depend for preserving 1952 GOP gains in Dixie.

POCKETBOOKS—The problem of irregular financing, however, transcends the personal fortunes of the President or the senator. It has attracted scant notice because of its technical aspects, but it touches both big and little pocketbooks of the present and future generations.

Simply put, Eisenhower seeks to improve and expand the nation's physical plant—highways, hospitals, schools, power dams, health centers—at an estimated cost of $500 billion over a five or ten-year period, including local contributions.

But he doesn't have the money, and cannot raise it directly without a fearful and politically fatal boost in taxes and the national mortgage, which at the end of 1954 had reached the terrific total of $279 billion.

IRRITATES—When a private corporation finds itself in this fix, and cannot raise prices, lower costs or cut wages, it issues bonds or new stock. It is what Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey's steel company would do. It is what he now proposes that the Administration do, although the government is virtually "broke," while the Humphrey-Hanna interests are financially sound.

The plan for underwriting the proposed $101 billion highway program irritates Byrd particularly, although that is only the most spectacular example of the debt-ducking procedure.

Under the White House proposal, construction would be financed by a Federal Highway Corporation. Although having no assets or income, it would be authorized to borrow $20 billion by selling bonds to the public.

RESULT—Under a contract with the corporation, the Treasury would guarantee these securities. The amount would not become a charge on the public debt, and it would not require higher taxes. However, Congress would have to make annual appropriations for payment of the corporation's principal and interest, if necessary.

Should the corporation fail to make profits, as it probably would for Congress will never approve a general toll road system, it could call on the Treasury for as much as $5 billion to meet deficits.

Byrd describes this operation as "legerdemain." According to

Revolution Daughters Meet Is Held With Mrs. Johnson

Members Schedule Guest Night Fete

Pickaway Plains chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held a regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Johnson of S. Pickaway St.

A total of 30 members and a guest, Mrs. Leora Sayre, who is a member of a DAR chapter in Oregon, were present for the session. Mrs. W. Emerson Downing, regent, presided at a business meeting.

Mrs. R. A. Bales, flag chairman, urged the members to be leaders in showing proper respect of the American flag and to know and use the correct form of salute to the flag.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a slate of officers for 1955 to 1957. Delegates chosen to attend a state convention in Toledo on March 14, 15 and 16 include:

Mrs. Downing, Mrs. W. L. Mack, Mrs. Bales and Mrs. Martin Cromley. Alternates are: Miss Marie Hamilton, vice-regent, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Claribel Hughes, Miss Dorothy McArthur and Mrs. Paul Johnson.

A Continental Congress in Washington D. C. in April is to be attended by delegates, Mrs. Downing, and Mrs. Bales, with Miss Hamilton and Miss Florence Duntun as alternates.

Mrs. Hughes presented the national defense topic for the evening, "Mission to Peking". Her paper dealt with the recent trip of General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Announcement was made of plans for a guest night meeting to be held Feb. 15 in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. Husbands and families of the members are to be invited to the session, which will feature Dr. H. R. Cotterman of Capital University as guest speaker.

Assisting hostesses for the meeting were: Miss Hamilton, Mrs. Dwight Steele, Miss McArthur, Mrs. McClure Hughes, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. H. O. Pile, Mrs. Dewey Downs and Mrs. Robert Wallace.

Solaqua Garden Club Holds Meet With Mrs. Vause

The Solaqua Garden club of Ashville and vicinity held a regular monthly meeting in the country home of Mrs. Benjamin Vause of Gray's Station.

The meeting opened with reading from Proverbs 4 and repetition of the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered giving a New Year's resolution.

Reports were given by the club officers, by Mrs. Harry Lump on baskets prepared for needy families at Christmas and by Mrs. James Hott on memorials for the deceased members of the club.

Arrangements were made to hold an all-day session and workshop on wood fibre flowers during an April meeting. The club voted to send a contribution to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Everett Peters explained a bill that has been introduced by Representative Francis Bolton to the House and Senate of our national government to select a national flower. The club composed and signed a letter to the Honorable James B. Polk announcing the club's choice as the red American Beauty Rose.

A total of 20 members answered roll call and Mrs. A. W. Boone was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Mrs. Edith Koch served as moderator for a roundtable discussion of house plants, which was the feature of the program hour. Methods of watering, temperature, size of pots, control of insects and diseases and the varieties of plants adaptable to pot culture were enumerated.

Mrs. Cecil Ward reported that a pink Hermosa rose is in bud in her garden.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Vause and her assistants, Mrs. Alfred Cook and Mrs. Walter Cummins.

Mrs. Frank Grice of Ashville is to be hostess to a February session of the club, Mrs. Jennie Russell and Mrs. James Hott are to serve as assisting hostesses.

Republican Club Women Set Meet

The Pickaway County Women's Republican club will hold a caserole luncheon and business meeting at 12:30 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Richard Hedges of Ashville.

A report of a nominating committee will be given by the chairman, Mrs. Ethel Valentine; annual dues will be collected and sales tax stamps will be counted.

Mrs. Hedges will be assisted by Mrs. Floyd Hook, Mrs. A. D. Pettibone, Mrs. Wright Noecker, Mrs. Helen Cummins, Mrs. Orlan Hines, Mrs. Peter Johnson and Mrs. R. S. Hosler.

Mrs. Henry Helwigen and Mrs. Harry Diehl will serve as co-hostesses for the next regular meeting, scheduled for Feb. 15.

Mrs. Carroll, Miss Johnson Speak At Monday Club Meet

The members of the Monday club enjoyed the presentation of two papers during a regular session of the group, which was held in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Ray Carroll addressed the club on health trends and Miss Carrie Johnson spoke on the subject of American charity.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson conducted a short business session of the club and Mrs. Kenneth Robbins served as program chairman for the meeting.

"We Share Because We Care" was the topic prepared and presented by Miss Johnson. Her article gave the members of the Monday club food for thought at this time when so many charity appeals are being made on the public.

Miss Johnson brought out one major question, "How can we distribute wisely what we have to give?"

Americans, stated the speaker, part voluntarily with nearly $4 billion each year for uses defined by the Income Tax Law as philanthropic. According to an article in a national weekly magazine, out of this $4 billion, $120 million goes to out and out fraud.

Drastic changes were cited by the speaker in ideas about philanthropy during the past 20 years. A generation ago, charity meant providing destitute and hungry people with food, shelter and clothing.

During the depression, Americans declared themselves willing to accept a tax bill to provide these needs.

Miss Johnson stated that the largest and most intricate nationwide drive for funds is made by the American Red Cross. In 1953 the Red Cross raised nearly $90 million for the tasks Congress had chartered it to perform. National headquarters for the organization is in Washington and there are 3700 county and community chapters with 4200 branches.

Until recently the chief executive of the Red Cross was appointed by the President of the United States. The current president, Ellsworth Bunker, who receives an annual income of $30,000, is elected by the organization's volunteer board of governors.

Miss Johnson stated in closing that if so many people were not so willing to give whenever a s k e d,

Mrs. Leora Sayre conducted a session on lampshade construction for members of the Pickaway Township Home Demonstration club in the Pickaway School. Members completed their projects of covering lampshades and a social hour was enjoyed.

fection satisfactorily and the individual is not aware of it.

Rest, physical and emotional, is still considered the most important mode of treatment. The speaker noted that in the past five years, the development of effective tuberculo-static agents has greatly changed the treatment of tuberculosis. One immunizing agent has shown promise of success and has now achieved wide acceptance.

In touching on the disease of "Infectious Hepatitis", Mrs. Carroll pointed out that it is caused by a virus present in the blood of the patient for many days before symptoms appear.

The treatment for the disease involves primarily limiting the physical activities of the patient and insuring an adequate intake of wholesome food.

Mrs. Carroll noted that the word

Because of the ease of administration and the freedom from side effects in the use of the drug, Dr. Edward M. Freis of Georgetown University and the Veterans Administration Hospitals, Washington D. C., states that Ranwolfin is worthy of trial in all cases of high blood pressure.

Mrs. Carroll stated that Dr. Gordon M. Meade of Trudeau Sanitarium, New York defines Pulmonary Tuberculosis as follows: "The primary phase infection is the sequence of events which follows upon the initial invasion of a previously uninfected body by the tubercle bacillus."

Mrs. Carroll explained that in the majority of instances, the natural defenses of the body handle this in-

"Polio" is familiar to all of us. We are told that polio is caused by a virus which enters the body in a way not yet known.

The speaker noted that there are many forms of the disease and with most patients it is mild and of short duration. According to Mrs. Carroll there are no specific weapons to combat the established polio virus.

She quoted Dr. David G. Dickinson of the University of Michigan as stating, "Many of the complications of the disease are largely preventable and should be kept in mind as the most important part of the treatment of the early polio.

In closing Mrs. Carroll called attention to the importance of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The funds of the organization are raised through the March of Dimes and are used partly for furthering of research for a vaccine which now seems assured.

Ward Skinner Should Have Been An Author---

When Ward Skinner was a boy, he dreamed about being an author who'd write something that'd make him famous and make a lot of money to boot.

He got part of his wish anyway! His weekly "Masterpieces" (?) are widely read by Circleville housewives. But not for literary style or plot. Thrifty ladies read every line looking for those wow-bargains Ward is famous for.

How about the nice profit Ward was going to make with his writing? Well, that's life for you. If he didn't give in to his weakness for cutting prices to the bone, he might do that too. As it is, it looks as if Ward will just have to let the riches go hang just to be the favorite "author" of Circleville housewives.

Labor Unions Shooting For Major Gains

Leaders Say: 'We Want Share Of Gravy' From Business Boom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor unions are shooting for some big economic gains in 1955 and government officials say they are expecting a turbulent year in labor-management relations.

A sampling of sentiment among union leaders shows they feel this way: "If business is going to be as good as businessmen say, we want a share of the gravy."

The unions acknowledge they did reasonably well in 1954 when, at least in the spring and summer, the business outlook appeared rather dark. With economists generally predicting better conditions in 1955, the union men figure "there should be more in the kitty."

This seems to spell stepped-up collective bargaining activity all along the line. Government officials keeping a close tab on the situation say a big increase in strikes is possible.

However, last year was a relatively active bargaining year—yet strike idleness was at a postwar low. Some specialists say this means management and labor are dealing with each other more reasonably.

The Labor Department has just completed a study throwing light on the probable scope of 1955 bargaining. It dealt only with major labor contracts, those covering 5,000 workers or more.

Out of 284 such contracts, nearly 200 covering about 3,350,000 workers in some of the nation's biggest industries will be up for full or partial revision. The same will be true for an unestimated number of smaller contracts covering probably several million more workers.

The two most significant sets of upcoming negotiations — from the standpoint of number of workers covered and of their becoming possible pace setters—are in the auto and steel industries.

Five-year CIO United Auto Workers contracts with General Motors and with Ford expire May 29 and June 1, respectively. Both motor firms have given 5-cent-an-hour annual "improvement" raises to workers represented by UAW, plus other concessions from time to time, but the union has built up an ambitious slate of changes it wants incorporated in new contracts.

For one thing the UAW says it has soured on long-term contracts, wants new agreements limited to one or two years. Also, Walter Reuther, head of both the CIO and UAW, has pledged the auto union will win some form of the guaranteed annual wage this year.

Steel industry contracts permit only rebargaining of wage rates in June. However, what happens in the steel or auto industries very likely would affect each other.

The outcome of the steel and auto negotiations are likely to have some bearing on bargaining in other industries.

Cincy Airport Installing Radar

CINCINNATI (AP)—Air traffic at the Greater Cincinnati Airport in nearby Boone County, Ky., will be safer in poor weather when a new $750,000 radar system goes into operation Feb. 20.

A week ago, 15 persons lost their lives near the airport when a passenger plane carrying 13 persons and a private plane with two aboard collided.

Hal Boyle Says:

Boy Dies, Man Born At 13

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—A young man I know has gone through quite a change recently.

He used to be strictly a man of action, tough, virile, fearless beyond measure, a bold hunter of adventure. Now he appears to be the gay boulevardier, the dapper sophisticate who has seen everything and done everything. A few more years at his present pace and they'll be calling him a worn-out old rogue.

But at 13 Bob has a little time left.

The change came suddenly. Just a few weeks ago his life was devoted entirely to football and baseball, to the settlement of disputes on a field or street or back lot of honor, to roaming the world on a bike, to the exclusive company of men who were men.

Just before the change came, he and his cronies built a clubhouse of lumber "borrowed" from nearby construction projects. It had a two-foot "picture window," a grand entrance through which you crawled and an "attic" big enough for one member to lie down in, without breathing.

When the members fell into disagreement, each would leave with his part of the clubhouse. Thus, on some days, the headquarters was bereft of a roof or a door or a whole side wall. But one thing was never removed—the sign on the front which said, "Private—No Girls."

Suddenly one day Bob told his mother he and his associates would like to throw a party in the basement recreation room of Bob's home. It would be all their own doing and adults were not to interfere. Besides, there would be GIRLS. Mother agreed.

One other stipulation: Bob's younger brother was not to show his face anywhere. Agreed.

The six joint hosts worked on the party for a week. Each day another member arrived with an item—soda, pretzels, crackers, records. They decorated the room in blue and white crepe paper. The basic motive was not quite clear. On one wall was a large sign saying, "Go-Go-Go." On another, a larger sign: "No Smoking."

Bob's mother bought a couple dozen doughnuts, just in case.

The men arrived first—four in charcoal black suits and pink shirts and two in tweeds. The girls properly followed the new, long, flat look. As the girls went down to the basement, one boy was heard to whisper, "look at that low-cut dress!" Her dress opened all the way down to her collar bone.

At one point in the party, a freckled, red-haired young man came up to the kitchen. He noticed the doughnuts and asked if he might take a few. He could, and took more than a dozen.

"Do you happen to have any peanut butter and jelly?" he asked Bob's mother.

"Why, yes. Why?"

"We thought we'd make a few hors d'oeuvres."

Halfway through the evening, the six males trooped upstairs to examine Bob's new microscope set. In some circles the fact that they left the women alone in the basement might be considered unchivalrous, but in this set it was all matter of fact. No questions asked, no female recriminations.

Later, the red-haired young man came up again.

"Happen to have any candles around?" he asked.

"Yes, why?"

"Oh, we thought we'd dance a little by candlelight."

At the end of the evening, the girls all thanked the host's mother quite properly. The red-haired boy said he had a wonderful time "and what I liked best was that you didn't interfere."

When they were all gone, Bob's father, who had been restless all evening, asked his son what they had done at the party.

"Oh, talked."

"What else?"

"Danced."

"That all?"

"Oh, we played a few kissing games. You know, pop, it's kinda fun."

And with that Bob picked up a baseball glove which happened to be under a chair and threw it in the closet, and went up to bed whistling a tune of his own making.

The only way to keep great men from believing in their own publicity is to remind them of what they were before they began to wonder themselves on what meat they thrived so mightily. Also it is good to remind them that not every word they say is sacred; that not every trick they pull is divine revelation. If maturity means obeisance to the great, then we were a better country before we became mature. Maturity may be synonymous with senility.

Personally, I do not go in for character assassination because too few persons are worthy of the effort. Do I care whether a politician is an alcoholic; if his wife took in washing before he suddenly bought her a mink coat; or if a supposedly learned man never read anything more serious than a "whodunit"? It might be interesting but it is important, particularly if the official somehow manages to do his job and is not soft on Communists and does not lie more than is necessary to get elected and to stay in office?

This is a democracy which means that what the people do is ipso facto right even if it turns out to be stupid which it does sometimes happen.

Right To Criticize Stressed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said yesterday that former Republican Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, had every right to criticize the administration's government worker security program as he did in a speech last weekend.

Eisenhower added, however, that he believes the security program is fairly well conceived. So far as he knows, he remarked, Cain has not submitted to any responsible government official any basis for his criticism.

Warren Firm Gets $7 Million Order

WARREN (AP)—Mullins Manufacturing Corp. has been awarded a $7 million contract to produce special shells for the Army Ordnance Corps.

The shells are to be produced at the company's plant here by the "coldflo" process which permits making the shells in one piece at reduced cost, according to H. M. Heckathorn, president.

Kaiser To Build

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The chemical division of Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. plans to build a $4 million plant to produce basic refractories materials at Columbiana, Ohio.

D. A. Rhoades, vice president and general manager of the corporation, said construction of the plant will begin early in April and is scheduled to be completed and in operation late in the year.

Rhoades said the plant represents "a major expansion of the Kaiser chemicals division, which has been a major producer of high temperature refractory materials for the steel, glass, cement and copper industries from its three existing plants in California."

Capital Expenses For Ohio Listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio spent $63,862,392 for capital improvements during the fiscal year ended last June 30, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported yesterday.

He said that was about $10 million more than the total spent in the preceding year.

Highway funds accounted for more than $43 million of the capital improvements. The rest came from general revenue fund.

Expenditures from the general fund showed more than $13,375,000 went for buildings, $2,260,000 for land, $2,700,000 for equipment, the rest miscellaneous expenses.

Fore and Aft- and Curbside, too-

It's the style hit of the year!

You can take our word for it when we tell you this:

The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer.

To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.

That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right.

For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.

But bold new styling, of course, is just one reason for the sensational success of these great cars.

New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.

New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you far better gas mileage in normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration, but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.

So you can see that just looking isn't enough. You have to take that wheel in your hands, try that power, feel that Dynaflo take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.

We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Christianity Gets Boost From Athletes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Some outstanding athletes of the past and present plan to do something to curb juvenile delinquency.

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, said they have organized as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

They plan to visit colleges and high schools in teams "in the belief that a great many prominent sports figures who want to be counted as to their Christian convictions can have a great bearing on the thinking and conduct of America youth," Mehl said.

The organization was proposed by Don McLanen, athletic director of Eastern Oklahoma A & M College, Wilburton, Okla.

Members enlisted include Doak Walker, Otto Graham, Dan Towler and Kyle Rote, professional football players; Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma football coach; Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion; Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, and former college football players Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A&M, Don Moomaw of UCLA and Jerry Coody of Baylor.

The group will have a "kickoff" meeting in Oklahoma City Jan. 31.

Youngsters Invited To Help Fox Hunt

Youngsters have been invited to join in the Washington Township fox hunt to be held Saturday. All proceeds from the hunt will be donated to the March of Dimes.

The youngsters, who will not be armed, will join the hunters in flushing out the foxes. Hunters are permitted to use shotguns only.

The hunt will begin at 9 a. m. at the Washington Township School. Lunch will be served at noon.

Pheasant, Cat Become Friends

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Almost every day, a wild pheasant flies into Mrs. Donald Currence's back yard and roosts on a tree.

Then the family cat climbs the tree—but not to chase the bird. It seems the two have become fast friends ever since the pheasant dropped in for a visit during last week's snowstorm. They share a limb together.

Women Don't Cuss?

BURSA, Turkey (AP)—Women are now being admitted free to local soccer matches. The reason? Authorities decided it would help curb swearing by male spectators at referees and players.

Cage Spotlight Focuses Action On County Tilts

With Circleville High School taking a breather this week for exams, cage action centers around the county schools.

Perhaps the top game of the week will be the clash between Williamsport and Ashville on the latter's home court. In their only other previous meeting this season, an independent game during a tournament at the Coiseum, Williamsport nosed out the Broncos by two points.

Concerning that tournament, a financial report has been issued. Bloomingburg and New Lexington St. Aloisius, in addition to the Deers and Broncos, each earned approximately $85.50 from the tournament.

Paid attendance for the two nights Dec. 28 and 29 totaled 1,029. Gross receipts were $699.07 and expenses $342.34. This was split four ways with St. Al's getting the extra few cents to balance it out.

WILLIAMSPORT, as of late, has hit a losing streak. Sporting a previous 6-0 record, the Deers were dethroned by Scioto. Last week they were toppled by Stoutsville 68 to 54 in a non-league affair.

The Deers' ace scorer Gene Stonerock was out of action last week due to a tonsil infection. Coach Art Holliday said he expects to have Stonerock back in the lineup against Ashville.

Big doings are expected all over the county Friday night.

Home Court Advantage Fails To Hold

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to the home court advantage in college basketball? It was nowhere to be found in the cold, gray stone fieldhouse at Columbia, Mo., last night as Kansas State played like it owned the joint and dumped Missouri on the already crowded upset heap.

It was a 78-67 demise for the Tigers, previously unbeaten in the Big Seven, as K-State scored on 51 per cent of its shots from the field. To further confuse the home court argument, it was just last Saturday that Missouri, No. 8 in this week's Associated Press poll, toppled the Wildcats at Manhattan, Kan., 94-85.

They also split their two-game series last season, each winning away from home.

Missouri slipped out of the Big Seven lead with the defeat, leaving Colorado (3-0) all alone in first.

There wasn't much chance for major upsets elsewhere last night and except for Amherst, which was knocked off for the first time this season by Wesleyan 62-58, all the favorites got home safe. LaSalle, ranked No. 4, disposed of West Chester (Pa.) State 85-50 while Dayton, No. 18, beat Western Kentucky 91-73, and Niagara, tied for 20th, defeated Assumption of Windsor, Canada, 99-55.

They were the only ranked teams at work officially, although Duquesne (No. 5) lost to Andrews AFB 84-70 in an exhibition.

Houston Signs Kansas Coach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Bill Meek, a Tennessee single-wing graduate who teaches the split T, is leaving Kansas State to accept a five-year contract as head coach at the University of Houston.

Corbin J. Robertson, chairman of the university's Athletic Council, said the 33-year-old Meek will receive "in the neighborhood of $15,000 a year."

At Manhattan, Kan., Dr. James A. McCain, Kansas State president, expressed gratitude for Meek's four years of service there but said the college, "under our policy" could not match the Houston offer.

Ex-Champ Leads All-Star Keglers

CHICAGO (AP)—Junie McMahon of Fair Lawn, N. J., twice winner of the National All-Star bowling tournament, early today led the 14 qualifiers into the finals.

McMahon topped the 46 qualifiers, with a score of 7,563, for 36 games. He held a slim two pin lead over Ed Lubanski of Detroit. McMahon took over the No. 1 spot early yesterday with 1,338 and then finished his night's round of six games with 1,259.

68 Trotters Set For Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—A total of 68 three-year-old trotters, including the highly regarded Scott Frost, have been kept eligible for the 30th Hambletonian but the value of the Aug. 3 renewal of the sulky classic may fall below $100,000 for the first time since 1952.

Last year, with 87 eligible as of Jan. 1, the race has a value of $106,830. And in 1953 the gross value was $115,000. Depending on how many start, this year's race figures to be worth about $92,000.

Californian Paces Women Bowlers

CHICAGO (AP)—Merle Matthews, Long Beach, Calif., stenographer, early today led the field of 46 women qualifiers into the match play competition in the National

All-Star bowling tournament.

Miss Matthews, a leader in the tourney since Sunday, posted a 24-game total of 4,679, to top the 14 finalists who will begin their match play today. Another Californian, Peggy Farley, of Panorama City, trailed by only 43 points, with 4,636 for 24 games.

Local High School Driver Training Course In 9th Semester

County Schools Began Courses 5-6 Years Ago

AAA Survey Shows 16-24 Age Group Worst In Accidents

(First of Two Articles)

Although the student driver training course at Circleville High School is in its ninth semester, only three of the students who have taken the course have been involved in accidents, according to Al Gabriel.

Gabriel, CHS instructor who teaches the course, points to this with pride as he explained the setup at the local high school. He estimated that an average of 20 students enroll in the course each semester.

County schools, seven of them, began their driver training courses even before CHS. George McDowell, county superintendent of schools, said these were started five or six years ago.

In all cases, both county and city, cars have been donated. In some instances, even the gas and oil is supplied free.

WHAT IS the reason for driver training? The American Automobile Assn. explains:

"The 16-24 age group has the worst accident record, on the basis of mileage driven, of any age group—five times as bad as that of drivers 45-50 years of age.

"Sound driver education programs in high schools offer the best means of improving this condition.

"Every 16-year old in the high schools of the country could be given sound training to drive at a cost of only 2 per cent of the annual national loss of $3,950,000,000 in traffic accidents. This is approximately $34 per student."

The AAA further feels that parents should not undertake to teach their children to drive. The group feels that driver training courses in high schools will result in students averaging only half as many accidents as those who learn from their parents.

At CHS, for example, each student is not only given practical instruction in a car but also must do classroom work on the subject. Gabriel pointed out that his students must complete a notebook on some phase of driving and turn it in at the end of the semester.

"WE TRY TO GET the students out in the car at least every third day," he said. "By the end of the semester and before the driver's test is given the student will have had 6½ hours behind the wheel."

Gabriel conducts two classes a day in driver training. He was given full charge of the program because his thesis for his masters degree was on driver training.

Although most of the students are "beginners", a few licensed drivers are taken in if there is room. All who pass the course are presented with a certificate of proficiency. Some insurance companies will grant lower rates to young drivers having such a certificate.

Students are given a regular driver's test by Gabriel. Those who pass receive standard driver's licenses.

During the course, students study the traffic laws, general mechanics of a car, law enforcement and traffic statistics. They use a regular textbook in their study.

AT THE PRESENT TIME, most of the courses are limited to seniors. However, due to a recent law change which allows licenses to student drivers who are 16 and above, classes have been opened up to other students.

(In the second installment, some of the problems in driver training are explained. Also, one CHS student tells how she feels about the course.)

Cop Said Now Sane

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Harry A. Hanna says Buck R. Ames, a former policeman, had regained his reason and probably will stand trial for the murder of his wife, Mildred. Ames, 41, was charged in 1950 with the shooting but was then sent to Lima State Hospital.

Pair Makes 40 Trips To Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerome Hooker, 57, and his 56-year-old wife are back together again today after facing each other 40 times in Circuit Court since she filed a separate maintenance suit against him.

Mrs. Hooker's attorney told the court yesterday they "got to like each other again because they were seeing each other so often. As a result, the couple has made up." Judge Charles S. Dougherty dismissed the suit.

Flu Hits Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—School Supt. Mark C. Schinnerer said yesterday influenza had struck as much as 15 per cent of the students in some schools. Among those hardest hit was John Marshall, where about 400 pupils were absent out of a total enrollment of 2,800.

Dr. Sheppard Allowed To Attend Rites

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard joins with his two brothers today for the second family burial in 10 days—the third in six months.

On a snow-flecked knoll overlooking a lagoon in Sunset Memorial Park, their 64-year-old father, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, will be placed next to his wife Ethel, who shot herself to death Jan. 7.

The eldest of the osteopath family died Tuesday night of a serious respiratory ailment. His sons said he "lost his will to live" after the suicide of his wife, who left a note saying she "could not go on without Dad."

Shackled to a deputy as he was at his mother's funeral, their youngest son, 31-year-old Samuel, will be taken under guard to a

Lakewood mortuary, and later to the cemetery, 10 miles away.

Both his parents were ailing during his nine-week trial for the July 4 bludgeon-murder of his pregnant wife Marilyn. Sheppard is appealing his second-degree murder conviction.

The Rev. Alfred C. Kreke, pastor of the Bay Methodist Church, officiates at the private services today. It was the Rev. Mr. Kreke who delivered the funeral sermons at the rites for the young osteopath's mother, and six months ago, for his wife.

The family requested that the time of the services be kept confidential to prevent crowds of curious onlookers from appearing.

A-Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate House Atomic Energy Committee will hold a two-week series of hearings on progress in the atomic energy industry. They will start Jan. 31.

'Picture' Taken

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—While photographer Melvin Weiss, 32, was under the black hood of his camera focusing it for a picture of a store front, someone came along and stole another camera he had already set up.

Ohio Poll Law Change Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says the state legislature may be asked to change Ohio election laws because of plans to hold national political conventions later than usual.

Democrats and Republicans have talked about holding national conventions late in August or in September. They customarily hold them in mid-summer.

Brown said later conventions might cause Ohioans outside the continental United States to lose their vote.

Brown said Ohio law requires him to prescribe ballots 75 days before election, and requires election boards to have ballots available for Ohio voters outside the U. S. 60 days prior to election.

Milk Output Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Northern Ohio dairy farmers shipped a record 915,627,759 pounds of milk into Cleveland last year, an increase of 24,160,740 pounds over 1953.

Lumbermen Elect

CLEVELAND (AP)—Warren E. Carter of Akron was elected yesterday to succeed Ralph C. Lutz of Lexington as president of the Ohio Assn. of Lumber Dealers.

TWO EXPLOSIONS, nearly simultaneous, demolished one six-room house and seriously damaged an adjacent home in Granada Hills, Calif. The first blast at the home (right) of William and Norma Badzik blew out every wall and crumpled the roof. The Badziks were injured. The second explosion ruined the home of Harold Jaffee but injured no one. Firemen discovered gas leaks all over the neighborhood and gas company emergency crews shut off the supply.

LIKE GIVES CONGRESS HIS 10-YEAR ECONOMIC PLAN

In The Herald Columns Today

GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY — Says that when Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to "assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation." And Michelson, according to the columnist, devoted himself effectually to the job. See the editorial page.

RAY TUCKER — Sees a lot of opposition ahead for the various schemes for spending billions without directly increasing taxes or the public debt. Tucker says a lot of the Congressional opposition will be based on the truth that you "can't pull rabbits out of even Uncle Sam's hat." Unless somebody puts them in first, that is. See the editorial page.

JAMES MARLOW — Tells about the latest political puzzle on the Washington scene: Harry P. Cain, one of the most conservative Republicans, and a supporter of Senator Joe McCarthy while Cain was in the Senate from 1947 through 1952. Cain owes his job to Eisenhower, Marlow claims, but he has taken several sharp jabs at the President's way of doing things. See page 5.

SAUL PETT — Writing for Hal Boyle, describes how a young man of 13 is going through changes normal for all boys his age. Only a short time ago, his interests were centered on a boys' clubhouse, and men who are men. But then, the change came suddenly, and women entered the picture. See page 9.

Deputy Sheriff Kills Man, 37

ELYRIA — Steve Vaszi, 37, was killed today by a deputy sheriff who had been sent to Vaszi's home to investigate a report Vaszi was beating his wife and son. Vaszi was killed by a shotgun blast fired by Deputy Eugene Miller. Miller said he had scuffled with Vaszi, who he said was armed with a gun and blackjack. The dead man leaves his widow and two sons, ages 13 and 8.

Rotary To Back Community Chest

Circleville Rotary Club, at its luncheon meeting Thursday, went on record with a unanimous endorsement of the proposal to set up a Community Chest for this district.

The big service group announced it would 'give full and strong support' to the project if officially launched here. It was the first time a large local organization has come out publicly in support of the plan since the current discussions on it began.

Action by the Rotarians came only a matter of hours before the time set for a public meeting on the feasibility of a Community Chest here. The Circleville Chamber of Commerce, which has yet to take a stand on the question, is sponsoring the public meeting Thursday night.

The gathering is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in common pleas court room at Pickaway County courthouse.

CHAMBER officials were cheered by the favorable turn in the weather Thursday after Wednesday's snowfall. They pointed out it would be sure to help attendance at the meeting.

The proposed Community Chest, discussed informally in the district for several years, would replace all the local fund-raising drives. Under the plan—also frequently known as a United Appeals setup—one big campaign would be held for all the participating organizations each year.

Proceeds would then be divided among the groups, according to a prearranged ratio.

Roy Marshall is chairman of the Chamber's committee in charge of arrangements for Thursday's meeting, expected to draw a large crowd from all over the city and surrounding county.

While few public leaders were willing to go on record with their views in advance of the meeting, it was well known that the Community Chest idea has growing support. Chief problem, it appears, would be to agree on methods that would be fair to all concerned. Opponents of the Community Chest plan, in whole or part, have

Snow Tapers Off Across Nation

CHICAGO — Snow tapered off over most of the country today but moderately cold weather continued in nearly all sections.

Freezing weather again today extended southward to Atlanta while in northern Florida, Cross City reported an early morning low to 36. Temperatures were mostly in the high 40s in southern Florida and southern Texas.

Coldest readings, zero and 5 below, were in Wisconsin and Michigan. Temperatures moderated a little across the plains. It was generally below freezing in most of the west except in the far Southwest and near the Pacific.

They named Lee White of Dayton treasurer and Norman C. Parr of New Philadelphia secretary.

Inter-American Panel Seeking To Soothe Costa Rica, Nicaragua

SAN JOSE — The inter-American investigating commission today proposed a demilitarized zone be set up along the western sector of the Nicaragua-Costa Rica border in an effort to prevent a clash between the two countries over the rebel outbreak against President Jose Figueres.

The five-nation commission made its proposal in the wake of a protest from Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza that two Costa Rican F51 fighters, on their first mission since the planes arrived Monday from the United States, had veered over Nicaraguan territory yesterday during an attack on the rebel-held town of La Cruz, seven miles from the border.

Somoza, a long-time foe of the Costa Rican President, announced four of his own fighters would patrol the border to meet any further trespassers. He said that the situation could become "an international conflict."

THE PROTEST to the commission, sent here by the 21-nation organization of American States, said the Costa Rican planes had created a "very tense" situation. The note said Nicaragua also was reinforcing its border garrisons.

Figueres, meanwhile, predicted today would see the decisive stage in his government's fight against the rebels in northwest Costa Rica. Reports from the fighting front indicated the loyalists, supported

Mystery Veils Booby Trap Bomb Death

SAN ANGELO, Tex. — Deepening mystery today veiled the booby trap bomb death of attractive Mrs. Harry E. Weaver, wealthy wife of a prominent architect.

Mrs. Weaver, 52, was killed yesterday about 8:30 a. m. as she set out for a local hospital to visit her ailing mother.

A Houston businessman, questioned following officers' long conferences with Weaver, was accompanied to the Harris County courthouse by Texas Rangers and his two small children.

Four Rangers accompanied the man and the children back to their home in a well-to-do section of Houston. Neither he nor officers would discuss what took place in the long secret session.

Officers would not answer questions either about the man's identity or any other development in their hunt for the person or persons who planted the nitroglycerine bomb in a Weaver auto.

Tom Green County Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said no arrest warrants had been issued. He refused to comment about possible suspects but did say he was working with information furnished by Weaver and other members of the family.

Weaver, 60, said he was in the big, old-fashioned home of Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when the blast occurred outside. The architect and his wife formerly lived in Houston. In recent years they resided on a showplace ranch 23 miles north of here.

Navy PBV Lost In Central Pacific

HONOLULU — The Hawaiian Sea Frontier reported last night a Navy PBV was presumed down at sea somewhere in the central Pacific after radioing an SOS.

The plane normally carries up to seven men, but a Navy spokesman said it was not reported how many were on the missing craft. Planes were being readied to sweep the area and two vessels were diverted to search.

New School Buildings Here Scheduled To Open In 1956

Designs To Follow Modern One-Story Pattern; Big Addition, 3 Separate Structures Planned

Conforming to the most modern trend in one-story structures, new buildings planned in Circleville's school expansion program are expected to be ready for use in September of next year.

In behalf of the city board of education, Superintendent of Schools George Hartman made that announcement Thursday in his latest outline of steady progress being made toward major improvements. The $750,000 building program was given a green light here at the Nov. 2 elections when voters approved the necessary bond issue by a wide margin.

Since that time, all phases of the planning have been steadily under way.

Among the most noteworthy details in Hartman's latest report was the fact that all of the new buildings will be of one-story construction, a design now favored by leading school architects throughout the country. Hartman said school officials here were told that many one-story buildings are five percent cheaper in construction costs than those of two-story designs.

Among the modern planners, relatively few of the latter pattern are being built anywhere in the United States.

A TWO-STORY structure, school leaders were reminded, calls for expensive stair-well construction adding to lost interior space. They also require stronger supporting walls at extra cost, and additional plumbing and heating facilities. Such expense, it was stressed, nullifies any hopes of economy through less roofing area.

Hartman also called attention to the added convenience in handling classes in a ground-floor building.

"Our program, which will give Circleville 25 new elementary classrooms, is moving fast toward the day when everything will be in order to advertise for bids on the new construction," the superintendent said.

"If everything continues to move according to plan, the contracts for all four new structures should be let in April.

"The board of education recently met in special session to consider the next step in securing

Gas Firm Strikers Withdraw Pledge

LIMA — Striking distribution employees of the West Ohio Gas Co. yesterday withdrew their agreement to furnish service crews in company emergencies.

William Munger, national vice president of the CIO Utility Workers Union of America, said in a letter to company President George Vail that the men were withdrawing after Saturday night.

Union officials said the move was because the company offered "no indication of a desire to settle the strike." The employees went on strike Tuesday after their contract expired.

ing the necessary sites. It was the feeling of the board that excellent progress has been made through the cooperation of many property owners. Transfer of titles can reasonably be expected in the near future.

"The board also took the necessary first step toward securing those properties which the owners did not wish to sell at the original offer. Employment of counsel was authorized and condemnation proceedings will be instituted when needed.

"Another special meeting is planned soon by the board to expedite this phase of the program.

It is the board's objective to own the properties needed, and have any dwellings vacant, by April 1."

HARTMAN SAID school officials are anxious to begin construction of all four new building jobs at the same time, having been assured that several thousand dollars can be saved in this manner. In addition to three complete new buildings, the fourth structure in the program will be added rooms at the Atwater School.

THE RESULTING legislative fight probably will be one of the hottest of the session.

AMONG THE school recommendations was one for a nine-member state board of education appointed by the governor, one member coming from each of the nine appellate court districts. Such a bill was laid before the House yesterday by Rep. Thomas L. Thomas (D-Akron), but it does not have the backing either of the school survey committee or Gov. Lausche.

The chief financial recommendation of the school study group was a change in formula by which the state's school foundation program funds are distributed to local school boards. Money now is spread around on a per-pupil basis. The proposal is to distribute it on a teacher-classroom basis.

The idea is to force schools to cut classes to 30 pupils each. The program would allocate state funds to schools on the teacher-classroom basis to a maximum of 30 pupils per class. If a teacher is required to teach 40 youngsters, for instance, his school would get no more aid than if there were 30 in the class.

In addition to reducing the number of pupils in each class, the proposal would have another side effect: Many more classrooms and teachers would be needed.

In the face of a continuing teacher shortage and an admittedly critical shortage of classroom space as the "war babies" crowd into Ohio's schools, the problems presented by the school study do not limit themselves to finances.

In addition to the school survey report, yesterday's legislative day also was marked by the appearance of Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant before the Senate Finance Committee in support of a bill to raise the salaries of all trial judges in the state.

HIS ARGUMENTS were largely a repetition of those he has presented since his late-November resignation as chief justice and his withdrawal of the resignation at the urging of Gov. Lausche. In resigning, he cited low pay and heavy administrative duties of the chief justice. He has held that position 22 years.

Indirectly, during the finance committee hearing, he lent his support to a constitutional amendment which would remove the prohibition against state officials receiving pay raises during their terms of office. A hearing on the constitutional amendment was held last night before the Senate Judiciary Committee, but without action.

A three-fifths vote of both houses of the Legislature plus a majority vote of the people is required to make a constitutional amendment effective.

Annie Moss Gets Army Job Back

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Wilson has ordered the Army to reinstate Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, whose case figured in controversy between the Army and Senator McCarthy.

The 49-year-old Negro woman was twice suspended by the Army as a possible security risk, the second time last Aug. 4. She had been doing clerical work.

Wilson's order directed Mrs. Moss' restoration to duty and said that she should be reassigned to a non-sensitive position "without access to classified information."

President Sees U. S. Future As Optimistic

'Modest' Tax Relief Hinted For Next Year; Wall Street Cautioned

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower handed Congress today his 10-year economic blueprint. In his message, he:

1. Reported recovery "well underway," foresaw a $500 billion output by 1965.
2. Gave strong promise of tax relief next year, but none this.
3. Cautioned that stock speculation or labor strife could damage prosperity.
4. Called for a 90-cent minimum wage, higher jobless pay.

In a glowingly optimistic economic message, Eisenhower gave virtual assurance of a "general, though modest, reduction in taxes" in 1956, made possible by a broad business recovery now in process.

He wagged a warning finger at the soaring stock market, declaring that "continued economic recovery must not be jeopardized by over emphasis of speculative activity." The government, he said, will meet its responsibility to prevent a financial boom-and-bust.

Picturing the present as a time of industrial expansion, he said labor strife often increases in such periods with "serious economic repercussions."

THE REPORT, third and last of the major presidential messages, urged the states to increase the amount, duration and coverage of unemployment compensation and called again on Congress to raise minimum wage to 90 cents.

He discouraged the proposals of labor leaders and some Democrats for a wage floor of $1 or $1.25 an hour. The 15-cent increase, he said, is all that can be "economically justified A higher minimum might cause lower production and substantial unemployment in several industries." He proposed, however, that Congress consider extending minimum wage protection gradually to 20 million workers not now covered.

These were among 33 recommendations in the 207-page report. But Eisenhower stressed that government's role in helping to achieve the 40 per cent production rise needed to reach a 500 billion annual output of goods and services in 1965 will be primarily that of encouraging private initiative, curbing monopoly and avoiding encroachment on industry.

Most of the specific recommendations underscored requests made in the earlier State of the Union and budget messages. Eisenhower asked Congress to:

Promote foreign commerce by extending for three years the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with presidential power to reduce tariffs by as much as 15 per cent.

CD Chiefs Call For U. S. Alert

COLUMBUS — Directors of Civil Defense in seven states and the District of Columbia yesterday agreed to ask federal officials for a nationwide air raid drill next June, with full public participation.

Ending a two-day fact-finding conference here, the state CD heads from Region Two said the test would advance the development of local programs and stimulate public interest.

The first nationwide test since World War II was held last June, but each city was given the option of using public participation.

FHA Aide Named

WASHINGTON — The Federal Housing Administration yesterday appointed Kline D. Reed, 32, director of its north central region, covering Ohio and nine other states effective Jan. 31. Reed's headquarters will be in Washington.

Community Chest Meeting Set For Courthouse, 7:30 Tonight

April 1. By next year, Eisenhower said, rising revenues and further federal economies "should make possible another step in the reduction of taxes."

TAKE ACTION "this year to help meet our nationwide needs for school construction." The President again did not specify the kind or amount of federal aid he has in mind. A special message will be sent Feb. 15, he said, dealing with "appropriate" plans.

Give the President power to tighten credit terms and increase down payments on federally underwritten mortgages when inflation threatens, and relax the terms when real estate slackens.

Authorize 35,000 public housing units in each of the next two years, and increase the mortgage-insuring authority of the Federal Housing Administration.

Sharpen the teeth of the Sherman antitrust law by raising "substantially" the maximum fines.

Extend the program of small business loans which expires June 30, and increase the lending authority.

Let the government put $25 billion, largely raised by bond issues of a proposed independent authority, into a 10-year $101 billion highway construction program in partnership with the states.

Increase the ceiling on the national debt. The limit now is temporarily at $281 billion and is being crowded; on June 30 it reverts to $275 billion.

Williamsport Man Sought By Patrol

A 21-year old Williamsport motorist whose car overturned after missing a curve, critically injuring a female passenger, is being sought by Franklin County authorities.

The driver, who was also injured, was treated and released from a Columbus hospital. However, a short time later, the State Patrol discovered that he was wanted in Franklin County.

The accident occurred on Route 104, one mile north of Route 665, according to the State Patrol in Columbus. Miss Gertrude N. Adams is listed as being "not good" by White Cross Hospital officials.

Miss Adams allegedly suffered head and internal injuries when the car failed to negotiate a curve and overturned. The driver was treated for minor bruises.

Officers Re-Elected By School Board

Carl C. Leist, Circleville attorney, was re-elected president of the city board of education at the organization's annual meeting.

Robert Brehmer Jr. was re-elected vice-president. Other members of the board are Ray Davis, James I. Smith and Mrs. Walter Heine. Clerk for the board is Virgil M. Cress.

The board set the first Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m., as time for its meeting through the year.

larger than any of the three separate new buildings.

It has already been stressed that a major aim in the big program will be to create adequate neighborhood schools, near the homes of the pupils in grade one through grade six.

With this in mind, it will be necessary to build a seven-room building in the Southend, bringing the classroom total for that locality to 13. This will permit a kindergarten and two rooms of each grade from one through grade six.

All the elementary pupils will be moved out of the present Corwin building to make room for grades seven through 12. A new six-room building will be constructed for Corwin for the needed neighborhood elementary unit, grades one through six.

Franklin will have a new four-room building facing Mound St. This will give the Franklin neighborhood a school of 13 units, making possible the same grade arrangement as that planned for the Southend.

IN CONNECTION with plans for the Franklin building, Hartman emphasized that all of the structures will be constructed with future additions in mind.

"I want to underline this point, especially in reference to the relatively small Franklin building," he said, "because we don't want the public to feel that the blue-prints we follow at this time are losing sight of the years ahead of us. Our buildings will all be designed with facilities for future enlargements—a forward-looking policy to be followed in the placing of gas lines, electrical wiring, furnace room locations, and so forth."

The present building at High Street has six rooms and will care for grades one through six. This neighborhood school, officials explained, will meet needs similar to the six-room school at Corwin.

The only addition structure included in the building program is marked for the Northend, where eight rooms will be added to the Atwater building. Upon completion of this work, that neighborhood will have the same grade facilities as those in the Southend.

Second Suspect Apprehended For Alleged Beating, Robbery

A second man wanted in connection with the reported beating and robbery of $50 from a Circleville Route 3 man was picked up by the sheriff's office here.

Melvin H. Reed, 19, of Ashville Route 2, allegedly confessed his part in the affair. Authorities said he also implicated Ab Glody, 41, of Ashville, already being held in the county jail.

The two are accused of beating up Oscar Curtis after driving around county roads. Curtis reportedly had offered $2 to anyone who would drive him to Columbus. Gloyd apparently took up the offer. Just prior to this he had struck up a friendship with Reed and the three drove off.

CURTIS AT FIRST told Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff that he had been stripped of his pants and shoes somewhere south of Ashville. Later, he recalled that all that was taken, in addition to the money, was a blue sweater.

Reed reportedly told Deputy Radcliff that the three ended up in Franklin County after several beer-drinking stops. Gloyd, he added, said something about a flat tire. All three got out, Reed stated, when suddenly, Gloyd hit Curtis over the head with a flashlight.

Although he was dazed, Curtis was able to give a description of the car. The auto was later discovered by Sgt. Charles Smith and Officer Russ Ogan, of the police, parked in front of a S. Court St. restaurant.

Inside the car, police found the blue sweater Curtis said had been taken. Also, police found a flashlight with a dent in it.

Orient Youth Has Annapolis Chance

An Orient youth has been named first alternate in entry examinations for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

The district youth, Phillip Leon Neff, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell H. Neff of Orient Route 1, thus ranks next to the principal nominee, Edward C. Webster, 17, of Columbus. Final appointment will depend on outcome of the examinations.

The principal nominee and three alternates were named Wednesday by Senator John Bricker, of Ohio.

Train Kills Man

John Henry Cherry, 80, of Mt. Sterling, was injured fatally Thursday when he was struck by a train at a crossing in Columbus.

Widely Known Farmer Dies Of Heart Attack

W. Emmett Gibson, a prominent farmer of the Williamsport area, died suddenly Wednesday following a heart attack.

He was fatally stricken about 1:30 p. m. while completing a business transaction at a coal mine near McArthur.

Mr. Gibson was born Feb. 11, 1897 in Ratcliffburg, Vinton County, a son of Henry and Amanda Sickles Gibson.

He was a member of the Williamsport Methodist church, where he was a trustee and a member of the official board of directors. He also was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America Lodge of Williamsport.

SURVIVING HIM are his father; his wife, Marie McAfee Gibson; a son, Harold of Jackson Township; a brother, Orsie of Kingston; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Wilson of Kingston and Mrs. Frank Christian of near Amanda, and three grandchildren, Yvonne, Linden and Billy Gibson.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Williamsport Methodist church with the Rev. John DeVoll, the Rev. J. H. Sudlow and the Rev. Cecil Swearingin officiating. The Hill Funeral Home of Williamsport is in charge of arrangements.

Methodists Have Father-Son Fete

Fathers and sons—more than 130 of them—were present Wednesday night for the Father-Son Banquet arranged by the Methodist Men's Club here.

The dinner was served by the WSCS group in the social rooms of the church.

Assisted by his father, James I. Smith, Steven Smith provided a magic show as one of the program's highlights. The Smiths were introduced to the gathering by Ray Friend.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FRANK HURTT
Frank Blair Hurtt died at 9 a. m. Thursday in the R and M Nursing Home on S. Scioto St., following an extended illness.

Mr. Hurtt was born Jan. 10, 1869 in Circleville, a son of James and Eliza Palmore Hurtt.

Surviving him is a sister, Miss Mary Hurtt of 165 E. High St.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Mader Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Charles Reed officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call in the chapel Friday afternoon and evening.

JERRY RUSSELL
Jerry Lee Russell of 611 Clinton St. died at 5 p. m. Wednesday in the residence.

Jerry was born Jan. 12, 1947 in Boone, N. C., a son of Wendell and Beulah Johnson Russell.

Surviving him in addition to his parents are a sister, Jeanette, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Vilas, N. C., Mrs. Edith Rambo of Circleville and John Russell, also of Circleville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. Melvin Maxwell officiating. Uncles of the boy will serve as pallbearers. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery by direction of the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

State Truck Stolen Wednesday Night

A state-owned truck was apparently stolen from in front of the Darby Tavern Wednesday night.

John Stage, 47, of Derby, told the State Patrol he had stopped at the tavern to discuss tree cutting with another man. Due to the fact that the truck had a bad ignition switch, plus the battery being low, he left the motor running while he went inside.

Later, when he returned, the truck was gone. Missing too are power saws in the back of the truck, which is a 1954 yellow pickup truck.

Buffer Zone Urged To End Latin Conflict

by aerial bombing from a converted airliner, were trying to outflank the rebels and cut them off from the border over which Figueres charges they came.

These reports said government troops continued yesterday to push the rebels into a tight pocket near the Nicaraguan border. More skirmishing, again was reported in the area of Santa Rosa plantation, 20 miles from the border.

The general staff said the rebels were making "preparatory movements." Although the skirmishes were referred to as big battles in the local press, observers said they actually were more like guerrilla clashes with few casualties on either side.

'Short Change' Racket Pulled

The old "short change" racket was successfully used at Gallaher's Drug Store Wednesday afternoon.

A customer came in and asked for a pack of cigarettes. He gave the sales girl a $20 bill. Just as he got the change, he "discovered" he had a smaller bill.

He took back the $20 and gave the girl a $10 bill and then repeated the process. Shortly after he walked out, the sales girl realized what had happened.

A quick check of the cash register proved out her suspicion. Although the police were notified, the man had disappeared.

Police said that in this type of operation the "artists" leave town quickly.

Many Keeping Eye On Huge Highway Fund

$101 Billion Outlay Seen Going To Varied Building Products

NEW YORK (AP)—Many businessmen have an eye on that 101 billion dollars that may be handed out over the next 10 years for roads.

The program would provide a good steady market for many products — cement, steel, earth moving machinery. And new road building processes and products are being developed.

If highways improve to a point where you can enjoy driving again, instead of spending your Sundays in traffic jams, it will make the selling task of the auto salesman easier, and doubtless inspire Detroit to greater production.

Steel mills will be busily turning out material for bridges, ramps, guard rails, signs, and miles of steel fence. But there's a lot more steel that doesn't meet the eye. Much goes into reinforcing concrete roadways as traffic grows heavier. And there's the lowly culvert.

More than 1 million tons of steel went into highway projects in 1954, when federal, state and local agencies spent about four billion dollars on roads. This year spending is expected to go up by almost one billion more, and steel consumption to approach two million tons.

But if the big spending plan is adopted by the federal and state governments, the American Road Builders' assn. estimates that highway construction will increase rapidly till it hits a peak stride of around 11 billion dollars in 1958, where it would stay until 1965. This would require about 5 1/2 million tons of steel products each year.

New wrinkles in the use of steel in highway construction are stressed by engineers of the Truscon Steel Division of Republic Steel. Expansion cracks — those tar-filled ridges over which your car click-clicks at high speed — can be eliminated by a process of continuous reinforcement, the engineers say. This increases the quantity of steel bars used for reinforcement — to the delight of steel company salesmen — but cuts down on the thickness of concrete needed to sustain traffic weight.

King sized corrugated tubes are also finding an increased market as culverts. Corrugation gives five to seven times the strength of uncorrugated tubes, engineers say, and the big tubes don't crack under the increasingly heavy loads that today's highways take, as the old stone and concrete culverts sometimes do. The big tubes are used to carry water under the roads, but also sometimes as passageways for people or livestock.

Pre-stressed steel girders are helping to reduce the weight of highway bridges. They are made by Stressteel Corp. from a technique developed in Britain. Steel bars, placed in beams when the concrete is poured, are pulled up hydraulically to extreme tension. Engineers explain that under this built-in tension the lighter beams can hold a heavy weight, just as can a row of books when squeezed together by your hands. Relax the pressure and the weight would send the books plunging to the floor.

Eisenhower Replies To Budget Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—In reply to Democratic criticism that his administration has again failed to balance the budget, President Eisenhower said yesterday he wanted to read a bit from a speech he made Oct. 2, 1952 in Peoria, Ill.

A paragraph from the text of that speech said: "My goal, assuming that the cold war gets no worse, is to cut federal spending to something like 60 billion dollars within four years. Such a cut would eliminate the deficit in the budget and would make way for substantial tax reduction."

A big tax reduction went into effect last year. The new budget calls for spending $62,408,000,000.

'Flakes' Do Fall

French Woman Freed In Slaying

PERPIGAN, France (AP)—One of France's most sensational postwar murder trials ended early today with the acquittal of Marguerite Marty on charges she poisoned her cousin Mrs. Jeanne Candela to get the cousin's husband.

During the nine-day hearing, Miss Marty admitted the husband, Eulogio Candela, was her lover but she denied poisoning his wife. She charged police beat her repeatedly in an effort to get a confession.

From the witness stand, police inspectors denied the charge. A court-appointed doctor testified she had been beaten but did not indicate who did it.

DeMolay Plans Ceremony Here Next Monday

The Circleville DeMolay Chapter will have inspection in both the Initiatory and DeMolay degrees, by District Deputy Robert Stewart of Newark, next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple at Circleville.

The class, being fairly large, will put the local chapter over the mark of 100 members. The chapter started with a charter member class of 50 members on Oct. 3, 1953.

Two of the members are serving in the armed forces. Gene Maynard, of Seyfert Ave, is in U. S. Navy training at the officers school at Glenview, Ill. and David Henkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Henkle, is serving aboard an aircraft carrier. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies next Monday evening.

On Tuesday evening, the Circleville chapter will travel to Chillicothe to confer both the Initiatory and DeMolay degrees on a group of Chillicothe boys, who will become members of the Circleville Chapter. Chillicothe does not have a DeMolay branch. This meeting, at the Masonic Temple in Chillicothe, will be open to all DeMolays with their credentials and all Master Masons in possession of their current identification.

Master Masons and DeMolays of Circleville who have cars are asked to be at the Masonic Temple in Circleville not later than 6:15 p. m. to furnish transportation for members who need it.

Farm Program Slated For Much Study

Rural Bloc In Congress Seen Stimulating New Opposition To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic efforts to stimulate opposition to the Eisenhower administration's agricultural programs in the hope of winning the 1956 farm vote will get a lot of attention in the two-year life of the new Congress.

It is already apparent that administration program critics will make an effort to get the Democratic-controlled Congress to vote to repeal the key feature of that program—flexible farm price supports—and restore high, rigid price floors.

But whether the Democrats will make an all-out effort to wipe the GOP program off the books this year or next is a matter party leaders have not yet announced.

Some Democrats argue for action next year, just ahead of the presidential campaign. They say action then would have much greater effect because, in their language, farmers by 1956 "will have suffered a year" of flexible price supports and be eager to vote for a change at the White House.

Administration farm leaders dispute that, saying farmers will be pleased by the working of the new system. They say, too, that President Eisenhower would veto such legislation and that the Democrats do not have enough votes to pass it over a veto.

Some Democrats, while conceding a veto would stand, retort that it would make the Republicans less popular with farmers.

Regardless of what Democratic strategy is adopted, Secretary of Agriculture Benson and his aides express confidence that flexible supports will be a less important issue in the 1956 campaign than they were last November. In this latter election, the Republicans lost no normally Republican rural congressional districts.

Benson says he believes the worst is over for farmers in what he calls a period of readjustments from abnormal war and postwar demands for farm products.

But Democratic farm leaders express fear that things will grow worse for agriculture. They point to: (1) Farm prices, which declined 25 per cent since 1951 and six per cent in 1954, show no immediate signs of improving; (2) farm surpluses continue to mount; (3) net farm income continues to fall while national income continues upward; and (4) farm operating costs continue near record high levels.

Many Democrats predict that the flexible price supports will operate to pull prices and income lower. The flexible system, which goes into effect this year, is designed to help guide farm production. Under it, price floors would be low in times of surpluses to discourage overproduction and to encourage greater consumption, and high in times of shortages to encourage greater production and to hold down consumption.

Benson agrees that price supports this year and next may average lower than they did during the war and postwar period. But he contends efforts now being made to dispose of surpluses and to cut down production of surplus products will, by 1956 election time, put agriculture on firmer foundation than that on which it rests today.

Russians Barred In New U. S. Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has barred Russian citizens from sketching or photographing military objects, railway stations, radio installations or other places or things in this country having possible strategic value.

The ban is comparable to one which the Soviet Union has imposed on American citizens and other foreigners in Russia.

Secretary of State Dulles gave formal notice of the action in a note to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin. It applies to all Soviet citizens in this country except those for whom the United Nations is responsible.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Latest political puzzle: Harry P. Cain, one of the most conservative Republicans and a supporter of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) while he was in the Senate from 1947 through 1952.

Last month McCarthy accused President Eisenhower of a "shrinking show of weakness" in dealing with Communists at home and abroad. Now Cain blasts Eisenhower's program for getting security risks out of the government as too tough.

In a speech at Spokane, in his home state of Washington, Cain told Republicans the Eisenhower program needed major overhauling to be sure government employees are dealt with justly.

Cain owes his present job to Eisenhower. The President appointed him a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board in April, 1953, five months after he had been defeated for re-election by Henry M. Jackson, a Democrat.

If Cain has ambitions for the 1956 Senate election it will have to be against another Democrat, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, a man with effective vote-getting ability in the Northwest.

Cain has been out of the political limelight since he went to work on the SACB which was set up to decide whether the Communist party and Communist fronts are Moscow agents.

The SACB can be a political graveyard for its members, who seldom make speeches, at least controversial ones. Cain, who talked much in the Senate, has been practically unheard of from 1953 until now.

As if in answer to a question about his viewpoint, Cain told the Spokane Republicans: "For the better part of two years I have been sitting, listening and thinking."

In the Senate, he said, he "lost sight of some fundamentals which have returned to focus during the past two years."

In the Senate Cain backed the proposed constitutional amendment of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit the treaty power of the President.

Cain was for declaring war on Red China during the Korean War. He wanted to blockade the China coast. He wanted to use tactical atomic weapons in Korea.

McCarthy has often used the phrase—"soft on communism"—to express his criticism of the way the government handled the problem of getting rid of subversives. But in Spokane Cain, reviewing the anti-subversive measures used by both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, said: "To those of you who have thought your government has been soft on communism, I would urge a consideration of the following developments."

He listed the anti-subversive measures. Cain offered seven recommendations he said would make the Eisenhower security program more fair. At his news conference yesterday Eisenhower said no responsible official in his administration, so far as he knew, had received the recommendations from Cain.

Ike Withholds OK To Wilson Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yesterday, a reporter called President Eisenhower's attention to Secretary of Defense Wilson's statement made Tuesday favoring increased trade with Communist countries in non-strategic goods.

Then the reporter asked whether Wilson's position had the President's "considered approval." Eisenhower replied that it certainly couldn't be said to bear his considered approval although the matter long has been under study by administration officials.

Johnny Evans Receives New Dealership

Johnny Evans, local automobile executive, has been appointed the Packard dealer here for service and sales, Clare E. Briggs, vice president of the Packard division, Studebaker-Packard corporation, announced Wednesday.

A display of new models has already opened at the agency, Johnny Evans, Inc. 115 Watt Street.

Evans will begin to provide service for Packard cars immediately. His modern service facilities have been completely equipped with Packard parts and accessories. Intensive training courses for his service staff have been carried out during the past two months with emphasis on the new type of suspension and transmission being installed for the first time in American production cars.

The new dealer has been in business for 14 years. Service manager of the firm is Lloyd Graves.

COMMENTING ON Packard's new business affiliation in this city, Briggs said that one of the first results of the formation of Studebaker-Packard as the fourth full-line manufacturer in the automobile industry has been an increase in dealer representation. The new company is now close to its objective of service in 4,000 key cities across the country.

Briggs said the dealership here is one of the first to secure a franchise under this program. The dealer will handle the Packard cars in a higher price field and Clippers in the medium priced market.

Customer Kills, Robs Bartender

CLEVELAND (AP)—A customer climbed on the bar, shot the bartender dead, and escaped with an undetermined amount of money from a tavern in suburban Lyndhurst yesterday.

Joe Fina, 40, manager of his father's tavern, was shot once through the heart by a man who suddenly crawled onto the bar, announced "this is it," whipped out a pistol and pulled the trigger.

The gunman ordered five other customers out of the bar. Detectives said the cash register was emptied and Fina's empty wallet was found in an alley.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's food stores, seeking good buys for weekend shoppers in the face of rises in wholesale meat prices, have come up with a variety of specials this week.

Quite a number of stores will feature turkeys, and in some cases prices will be down around six cents a pound from a week ago.

Smoked hams also will be advertised at lower prices by some markets. Other specials mentioned by a number of stores: Sirloin steak, fresh picnics, pork butt, loin of pork, chuck roast or steak and bacon. There also will be occasional specials on fryers, roasting chickens and fowl.

One buyer of meat for a large chain said that beef, lamb, veal and pork were higher at wholesale this week. He said that good value can still be found in various cuts of pork and lamb, nevertheless.

Another big chain will be selling

sirloin steaks and prime ribs this coming weekend at about the same prices as a week ago. But pork chops will be up anywhere from four to 10 cents a pound. This same chain is hiking frying chicken price tags from two to eight cents a pound.

Despite beef's present high price levels, the American Meat Institute is predicting that beef will remain America's most popular meat during 1953. It figures Americans will consume 76.7 pounds of beef per person this year. Pork, which used to be the favorite, will be consumed at a rate of 64 pounds per person.

The institute also says some of the most nutritious meats are found at the bottom of the butcher's price list: Kidney, brains, heart, tongue, oxtail, and pork and beef liver. These are fine protein foods, says the meat institute, and excellent sources of iron and vitamins. It adds that most experienced buyers look for a glossy appearance in kidney, heart and liver.

The list of outstanding buys in vegetables is dwindling with the arrival of colder weather. Produce men favor nearby potatoes, onions, old crop cabbage and turnips.

Rated as good buys are iceberg lettuce, pascal and golden heart celery, peppers, greens, dry type sweet potatoes and new cabbage. The smaller sizes in celery will give you the best value, they say.

In fruits, your best bets are tangerines, oranges, grapefruit, apples and avocados.

Decision Ordered In Custody Case

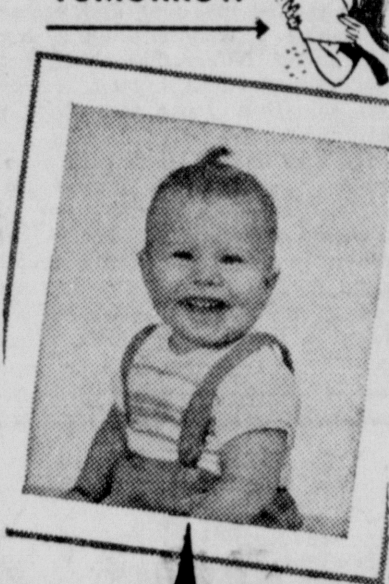

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has ordered a decision by Feb. 19 in an international custody tangle over nine-year-old Rosemary Cropper of Portsmouth.

The youngster's mother, Mrs. Grace Providence Catania Laurent of Tunis, Tunisia, has petitioned the court to take custody of Rosemary from her grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Cropper, Portsmouth.

Mrs. Laurent said the girl was born to her and Top Cropper Jr., Portsmouth, whom she married while he was serving with the U.S. armed forces in Tunisia.

The girl came to this country in 1947, the petition said, and has been here since. Cropper was killed in Portsmouth in a traffic accident Jan. 3, 1952.

Young Women Said Best Drivers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies announced flatly today young women drivers are better insurance risks than young men.

Effective Feb. 1, rates for women drivers under 25 will be cut 20 to 67 per cent, Executive Vice President Bowman Doss announced. Male drivers in the same group still will pay the present rates.

Doss said safe driving tests showed the young women "simply are safer drivers. They drive like adults so they'll get adult rates."

BOMBS AND POSTERITY
THE PRONOUNCEMENT by two University of Illinois scientists about the long-term genetic and other effects of hydrogen bomb explosions echo warnings heard recently from scientists in Europe.

The Illinois authorities did not estimate how many of the bombs it would take to poison the atmosphere and assure "creeping suicide" of the human race. Two Frenchmen, Nobel Prize winner Louis de Broglie and Charles-Noel Martin, recently have said 10 would do the job, this being perilously near the number already exploded by Americans and Russians.

Valid or not, these warnings have attracted wide attention in Europe. The effect is to pose a moral and political problem for our country, which relies far more than Russia needs to on nuclear weapons for its defense. It is we who have exploded the most H-bombs to date, and who have now acknowledged guilt by our agreement to indemnify the Japanese for loss of life and property caused by our test explosions.

In a note to Tokyo a promise to take "every possible precaution" in the future implied that more tests are planned. This will require reconsideration unless there is early and convincing refutation of the warnings by the scientists. Our country should not bear the onus of heedlessly contributing to an effect claimed to threaten the extinction, however distantly, of life on earth.

As it now stands, the moral burden is borne more by Russia for her stubborn rejection of steps by which the menace of nuclear weapons might have been ended.

History continues to come in a flood. Mankind will be happier when the torrent subsides.

There is a saying, "And this, too, shall pass away." When a taxpayer looks at the national debt, however, he has his doubts.

At the annual automobile show in Chicago, most of the models were new except the gals in the bathing suits.

Growing boys should eat more than their fathers, says a food expert, who evidently never saw a growing boy eat.

Radio is only 35 years old. But some of the jokes had a long running start.

What the American people need to learn, according to one writer, is the difference between right and wrong. Apparently too many already know, but have just made a bad choice.

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days
When Herbert Hoover was President, the Democratic National Committee hired Charles Michelson to assassinate Mr. Hoover's reputation. Michelson devoted himself to the job affectionately. Hoover's career was investigated from the day of his birth and when nothing could be found to hurt his good name, it was manufactured with cynical skill.
This is the classical example of organized, subsidized character assassination. Herbert Hoover survived but many of those who sought to sully his good name have since died, including Charley Michelson who wrote a book on his infamies.
Hoover, being a Quaker, has long forgiven the assassins; what is more, he has come to be on friendly terms with some of them, not taking their conduct too seriously. However, of Michelson's falsehoods persist to this day to Mr. Hoover's amusement at the folly of men.

Nowadays, it has become improper to tell not only stories but the truth about political opponents, lest it involve "character assassination" which is a meaningless term politically because all politicians practise self-praise and point to the foibles of their adversaries. If the foibles are sufficient to bring about a man's defeat, it is generally regarded as the thing to do. But one must always expect the boar that has been stuck to shout, "Character assassin!"

When Woodrow Wilson was President, a smearing campaign was stimulated by his enemies dealing with his private life. This effort to destroy his character culminated in the hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee concerning the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the Supreme Court.

Brandeis was innocent of any relationship to President Wilson's private life and if ever there was an attempt at character assassination, it was bringing him into the matter at all. But nobody called it such a fancy name then; they called it politics played to embarrass a President. That office was at that time not regarded as sacrosanct and no President dared to take himself too seriously.

Those who make such a big noise about character assassination engage in that art themselves when it is to their advantage. For instance, Senator Neuberger, the fledgling from Oregon, accused Vice President Nixon of character assassination, whereupon he proceeded to assassinate Nixon's character. Everybody's doing it, more or less. The constancy of a habit does not make it right, but when the pot calls the kettle black, the kettle might, with justice, do some hissing, which apparently Mrs. George Malone did.

Actually the looseness of our conversation concerning public men has this virtue, that it may occasionally remind the great men who govern us that they were not to the manner born, as indeed, no one is in our land where the sons of farmers and workers and miners emerge to the top.

It is lese majeste to run down a king or a queen because they have purer blood than we have, not biologically but genealogically, if that matters. Here there are no genealogies that matter. The only recent President that owned one was Franklin D. Roosevelt whose ancestors were something or other before they migrated from Holland and France to live among the Indians.

Insulin Offers Hope To Those With Diabetes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
MORE than 30 years ago, the discovery of insulin provided new hope for diabetics. Since then, science has carried on ceaseless research to develop insulin that will be effective for longer periods of time. And science has finally succeeded.

Three Types Available
Three types of insulin are now available for diabetics. The type, or mixture of types your doctor prescribes for you, depends upon the severity of your condition. Regular insulin, which was the only type available for many years, acts rapidly, and has its maximum action in one to three hours. Within another few hours it loses its usefulness. Injections may have to be administered as frequently as four times a day.

For Emergencies
In emergencies, quick-acting regular insulin is usually called for. It is useful, too, as supplementary injections. Slower but longer action insulins are globin zinc insulin and protamine zinc insulin. Their maximum effect is produced within about 18 hours, and they retain much of their power for about another 24 hours.

Only One a Day
By using a mixture of these various insulins, it is possible to produce an immediate effect as well as a lasting one. Thus, only one injection a day may be required. Recently, the American Diabetes Association reported new progress. A Danish investigator has discovered that by combining various amounts of zinc with insulin, without adding globin or protamine, the action of regular insulin can be prolonged to between eight and 36 hours. While clinical study of this new method is still in progress, the Association reports tests thus far are encouraging.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
M. H. Z.: Is it likely that one who has phlebitis later will develop some form of heart disease?
Answer: Phlebitis has nothing to do with heart ailments. The occurrence of phlebitis would not make it more likely that a person would develop heart disturbance.

Webster, "legerdemain" means "light of hand," "sleight of hand," or "any artful trick."

DEVICE—The road program, however, is only the most grandiose of similar devices. The plan for Dixon-Yates instead of TVA construction of a steam power plant is designed to prevent imposition of another $107 million on the public debt.

OUTLAYS—These devices do spare Washington immediate financial outlays and political embarrassments. But, as Byrd notes, they cost many more millions in the long run, and they do not relieve the government of ultimate responsibility.

RESULT—Under a contract with the corporation, the Treasury would guarantee these securities. The amount would not become a charge on the public debt, and it would not require higher taxes. However, Congress would have to make annual appropriations for payment of the corporation's principal and interest, if necessary.

Should the corporation fail to make profits, as it probably would for Congress will never approve a general toll road system, it could call on the Treasury for as much as $5 billion to meet deficits.
Byrd describes this operation as "legerdemain." According to

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN
I TOLD myself there was Law, capital L, to take care of this thing. So far, they'd found Harrison Purcell's car. I ought to go to them. I could see myself telling a state police corporal about the thing that was bothering me—a man I'd seen on Spine Rocks. Trying to identify someone I'd never seen less than a mile away. And anyway, that was Saturday. They didn't find the car till Monday—nowhere near the rocks.
I stopped stalling and faced it. I didn't want the state police up there working on that girl.
I changed into slacks and a sweater and put on my bush jacket. I wasn't sure about the Leica. Taking it yesterday had been like tying a label on myself. I decided it wouldn't hurt to have it along if I wanted to be the conversational camera amateur for anyone else. I slung it around my neck, picked up my soft hat from the dresser and went downstairs.
Outside, it was still cold and cloudy. I climbed in the Jaguar and pulled on a pair of pigskin gloves, snapping the straps at my wrists. It took a while for the engine to warm up but by the time I was headed down the valley it was making a sound like a contented pine tree in a breeze.
Near the crossroads I pulled to a stop by a big snagbark hickory on the edge of a field where a man in an old coat and overalls was sitting, doubled over, on a pile of fodder husking corn.
I climbed out and stepped across a ditch to the fence. He turned to one side and spit at the ground, making a ducking motion with his head like a chicken pecking grain. He didn't nod or acknowledge me but went on husking corn as if he had to meet a due date.
When I spoke, I got the idea he was a little disappointed as if I had muffed the punch line but I went on.
"Do you mind if I take a picture of your corn field? Those shocks make a nice pattern."
He looked me over and seemed to decide I wasn't kidding him. "Go ahead. Never had no time to fool with pictures, myself. Always had somethin' more important to git done."
He was one of those weathered, ageless men and his hatchet face watched me with a mild sneer but it was completely without malice. For a moment I couldn't understand what made it that way and then I realized his upper lip was caved in for lack of teeth. What daughter you can't afford to get rid of!"
This session of Congress may consider the proposal to name the rose the national flower. Just another thorny problem that needs to be solved?

ECONOMY — Although generally friendly to Eisenhower, Byrd feels deeply on this question. Disregard of his demands for greater economy and more prudent management of public money could easily transform him into a foe of the Administration, as it turned him against F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman.
As of today, there seems little doubt that the Virginian would command a majority in both chambers, Republicans and Democrats. The White House is extremely alarmed over the Byrd dissent, for it is upon Southern

Revolution Daughters Meet Is Held With Mrs. Johnson

Members Schedule Guest Night Fete

Pickaway Plains chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held a regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Johnson of S. Pickaway St.

A total of 30 members and a guest, Mrs. Leora Sayre, who is a member of a DAR chapter in Oregon, were present for the session. Mrs. W. Emerson Downing, regent, presided at a business meeting.

Mrs. R. A. Bales, flag chairman, urged the members to be leaders in showing proper respect of the American flag and to know and use the correct form of salute to the flag.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a slate of officers for 1955 to 1957. Delegates chosen to attend a state convention in Toledo on March 14, 15 and 16 include:

Mrs. Downing, Mrs. W. L. Mack, Mrs. Bales and Mrs. Martin Cronley. Alternates are: Miss Marie Hamilton, vice-regent, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Claribel Hughes, Miss Dorothy McArthur and Mrs. Paul Johnson.

A Continental Congress in Washington D. C. in April is to be attended by delegates, Mrs. Downing, and Mrs. Bales, with Miss Hamilton and Miss Florence Dunton as alternates.

Mrs. Hughes presented the national defense topic for the evening, "Mission to Peking". Her paper dealt with the recent trip of General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Announcement was made of plans for a guest night meeting to be held Feb. 15 in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. Husbands and families of the members are to be invited to the session, which will feature Dr. H. R. Cotterman of Capital University as guest speaker.

Assisting hostesses for the meeting were: Miss Hamilton, Mrs. Dwight Steele, Miss McArthur, Mrs. McClure Hughes, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. H. O. Pile, Mrs. Dewey Downs and Mrs. Robert Wallace.

Mrs. Swyers Is Hostess To Meet Of Berger Guild

Mrs. Melvin Swyers of 140 Park Place was hostess to a meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 27, with Mrs. James Carr serving as assisting hostess.

Mrs. Gus Costis, Mrs. John Alderman, Mrs. Irving Ellis and Mrs. Hal Riedemann were welcomed as visitors to the session. Announcement was made of a general guild meeting, which is scheduled for Jan. 28.

An art committee, which includes: Mrs. Kenneth Luna, Mrs. Swyers, Mrs. Larry McBrearty and Mrs. Wally Yamarick, announced plans for monthly favors for the hospital trays. A social hour was spent in working on the favor-making project.

Mrs. Henry Helwagen and Mrs. Harry Diehl will serve as co-hostesses for the next regular meeting, scheduled for Feb. 15.

Legion Auxiliary Sets Joint Meet

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold a joint session with the Legion members at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the legion home. This session will replace the regularly scheduled meeting of the Auxiliary.

The members of the Auxiliary held a mid-winter entertainment for the patients in a closed Ward 211-C at the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital.

Refreshments were served to 41 patients in the hospital and a special program was presented for their enjoyment.

Solaqua Garden Club Holds Meet With Mrs. Vause

The Solaqua Garden club of Ashville and vicinity held a regular monthly meeting in the country home of Mrs. Benjamin Vause of Gray's Station.

The meeting opened with reading from Proverbs 4 and repetition of the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered giving a New Year's resolution.

Reports were given by the club officers, by Mrs. Harry Lump on baskets prepared for needy families at Christmas and by Mrs. James Hott on memorials for the deceased members of the club.

Arrangements were made to hold an all-day session and workshop on wood fibre flowers during an April meeting. The club voted to send a contribution to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Everett Peters explained a bill that has been introduced by Representative Francis Bolton to the House and Senate of our national government to select a national flower. The club composed and signed a letter to the Honorable James B. Polk announcing the club's choice as the red American Beauty Rose.

A total of 20 members answered roll call and Mrs. A. W. Boone was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Mrs. Edith Koch served as moderator for a roundtable discussion of house plants, which was the feature of the program hour. Methods of watering, temperature, size of pots, control of insects and diseases and the varieties of plants adaptable to pot culture were enumerated.

Mrs. Cecil Ward reported that a pink Hermosa rose is in bud in her garden.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Vause and her assistants, Mrs. Alfred Cook and Mrs. Walter Cummins.

Mrs. Frank Grice of Ashville is to be hostess to a February session of the club. Mrs. Jennie Russell and Mrs. James Hott are to serve as assisting hostesses.

Republican Club Women Set Meet

The Pickaway County Women's Republican club will hold a casserole luncheon and business meeting at 12:30 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Richard Hedges of Ashville.

A report of a nominating committee will be given by the chairman, Mrs. Ethel Valentine; annual dues will be collected and sales tax stamps will be counted.

Mrs. Hedges will be assisted by Mrs. Floyd Hook, Mrs. A. D. Pettibone, Mrs. Wright Noecker, Mrs. Helen Cummins, Mrs. Orlan Hines, Mrs. Peter Johnson and Mrs. R. S. Hosler.

Mrs. Carroll, Miss Johnson Speak At Monday Club Meet

The members of the Monday club enjoyed the presentation of two papers during a regular session of the group, which was held in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Ray Carroll addressed the club on health trends and Miss Carrie Johnson spoke on the subject of American charity.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson conducted a short business session of the club and Mrs. Kenneth Robbins served as program chairman for the meeting.

"We Share Because We Care" was the topic prepared and presented by Miss Johnson. Her article gave the members of the Monday club food for thought at this time when so many charity appeals are being made on the public.

Miss Johnson brought out one major question, "How can we distribute wisely what we have to give?"

Americans, stated the speaker, part voluntarily with nearly $4 billion each year for uses defined by the Income Tax Law as philanthropic. According to an article in a national weekly magazine, out of this $4 billion, $120 million goes to out and out fraud.

Drastic changes were cited by the speaker in ideas about philanthropy during the past 20 years. A generation ago, charity meant providing destitute and hungry people with food, shelter and clothing. During the depression, Americans declared themselves willing to accept a tax bill to provide these needs.

Miss Johnson stated that the largest and most intricate nationwide drive for funds is made by the American Red Cross. In 1953 the Red Cross raised nearly $90 million for the tasks Congress had chartered it to perform. National headquarters for the organization is in Washington and there are 3700 county and community chapters with 4200 branches.

Until recently the chief executive of the Red Cross was appointed by the President of the United States. The current president, Ellsworth Bunker, who receives an annual income of $30,000, is elected by the organization's volunteer board of governors.

Miss Johnson stated in closing that if so many people were not so willing to give whenever a s k e d, fection satisfactorily and the individual is not aware of it.

Rest, physical and emotional, is still considered the most important mode of treatment. The speaker noted that in the past five years, the development of effective tuberculo-static agents has greatly changed the treatment of tuberculosis. One immunizing agent has shown promise of success and has now achieved wide acceptance.

In touching on the disease of "Infectious Hepatitis", Mrs. Carroll pointed out that it is caused by a virus present in the blood of the patient for many days before symptoms appear.

The treatment for the disease involves primarily limiting the physical activities of the patient and insuring an adequate intake of wholesome food.

Mrs. Carroll noted that the word

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Because of the ease of administration and the freedom from side effects in the use of the drug, Dr. Edward M. Preis of Georgetown University and the Veterans Administration Hospitals, Washington D. C., states that Ranwolfin is worthy of trial in all cases of high blood pressure.

Mrs. Carroll stated that Dr. Gordon M. Meade of Trudeau Sanitarium, New York defines Pulmonary Tuberculosis as follows: "The primary phase infection is the sequence of events which follows upon the initial invasion of a previously uninfected body by the tubercle bacillus."

Mrs. Carroll explained that in the majority of instances, the natural defenses of the body handle this in-

"Polio" is familiar to all of us. We are told that polio is caused by a virus which enters the body in a way not yet known.

The speaker noted that there are many forms of the disease and with most patients it is mild and of short duration. According to Mrs. Carroll there are no specific weapons to combat the established polio virus.

She quoted Dr. David G. Dickinson of the University of Michigan as stating, "Many of the complications of the disease are largely preventable and should be kept in mind as the most important part of the treatment of the early polio.

In closing Mrs. Carroll called attention to the importance of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The funds of the organization are raised through the March of Dimes and are used partly for furthering of research for a vaccine which now seems assured.

Slivers of onion, celery and green pepper added to canned baked beans give pleasant texture contrast.

Ward Skinner Should Have Been An Author---

When Ward Skinner was a boy, he dreamed about being an author who'd write something that'd make him famous and make a lot of money to boot.

He got part of his wish anyway! His weekly "Masterpieces" (?) are widely read by Circleville housewives. But not for literary style or plot. Thrifty ladies read every line looking for those wow-bargains Ward is famous for.

How about the nice profit Ward was going to make with his writing? Well, that's life for you. If he didn't give in to his weakness for cutting prices to the bone, he might do that too. As it is, it looks as if Ward will just have to let the riches go hang just to be the favorite "author" of Circleville housewives.

Labor Unions Shooting For Major Gains

Leaders Say: 'We Want Share Of Gravy' From Business Boom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor unions are shooting for some big economic gains in 1955 and government officials say they are expecting a turbulent year in labor-management relations.

A sampling of sentiment among union leaders shows they feel this way: "If business is going to be as good as businessmen say, we want a share of the gravy." The unions acknowledge they did reasonably well in 1954 when, at least in the spring and summer, the business outlook appeared rather dark. With economists generally predicting better conditions in 1955, the union men figure "there should be more in the kitty."

This seems to spell stepped-up collective bargaining activity all along the line. Government officials keeping a close tab on the situation say a big increase in strikes is possible.

However, last year was a relatively active bargaining year—yet strike idleness was at a postwar low. Some specialists say this means management and labor are dealing with each other more reasonably.

The Labor Department has just completed a study throwing light on the probable scope of 1955 bargaining. It dealt only with major labor contracts, those covering 5,000 workers or more.

Out of 284 such contracts, nearly 200 covering about 3,350,000 workers in some of the nation's biggest industries will be up for full or partial revision. The same will be true for an unestimated number of smaller contracts covering probably several million more workers.

The two most significant sets of upcoming negotiations — from the standpoint of number of workers covered and of their becoming possible pace setters—are in the auto and steel industries.

Five-year CIO United Auto Workers contracts with General Motors and with Ford expire May 29 and June 1, respectively. Both motor firms have given 5-cent-an-hour annual "improvement" raises to workers represented by UAW, plus other concessions from time to time, but the union has built up an ambitious slate of changes it wants incorporated in new contracts.

For one thing the UAW says it has soured on long-term contracts, wants new agreements limited to one or two years. Also, Walter Reuther, head of both the CIO and UAW, has pledged the auto union will win some form of the guaranteed annual wage this year.

Steel industry contracts permit only rebargaining of wage rates in June. However, what happens in the steel or auto industries very likely would affect each other. The outcome of the steel and auto negotiations are likely to have some bearing on bargaining in other industries.

Freed Car Thief Steals Automobile

ZANESVILLE (AP)—Ronald B. Daily, 24, was arrested yesterday and charged with auto theft one day after his release from the federal reformatory in Chillicothe. Daily, from Plattsburg, N. Y., was arrested by the Ohio Highway Patrol which said he wrecked a car stolen in Columbus. His term in Chillicothe was for auto theft.

Cincy Airport Installing Radar

CINCINNATI (AP)—Air traffic at the Greater Cincinnati Airport in nearby Boone County, Ky., will be safer in poor weather when a new $750,000 radar system goes into operation Feb. 20. A week ago, 15 persons lost their lives near the airport when a passenger plane carrying 13 persons and a private plane with two aboard collided.

University Offering Extension Course

A representative from Ohio University will be at Circleville High School next Tuesday at 7 p. m. to organize an extension class. Anyone interested should attend this meeting.

The course will meet a need in adult education here, and will lead to college credit. It will be open to anyone who can come to the class one day each week during the next semester.

Hal Boyle Says:

Boy Dies, Man Born At 13

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)
NEW YORK (AP)—A young man I know has gone through quite a change recently.
He used to be strictly a man of action, tough, virile, fearless beyond measure, a bold hunter of adventure. Now he appears to be the gay boulevardier, the dapper sophisticate who has seen everything and done everything. A few more years at his present pace and they'll be calling him a worn-out old rogue.

But at 13 Bob has a little time left.
The change came suddenly. Just a few weeks ago his life was devoted entirely to football and baseball, to the settlement of disputes on a field or street or back lot of honor, to roaming the world on a bike, to the exclusive company of men who were men. Just before the change came, he and his cronies built a club house of lumber "borrowed" from nearby construction projects. It had a two-foot "picture window," a grand entrance through which you crawled and an "attic" big enough for one member to lie down in, without breathing.

When the members fell into disagreement, each would leave with his part of the clubhouse. Thus, on some days, the headquarters was bereft of a roof or a door or a whole side wall. But one thing was never removed—the sign on the front which said, "Private—No Girls."

Suddenly one day Bob told his mother he and his associates would like to throw a party in the basement recreation room of Bob's home. It would be all their own doing and adults were not to interfere. Besides, there would be GIRLS. Mother agreed.

One other stipulation: Bob's younger brother was not to show his face anywhere. Agreed.
The six joint hosts worked on the party for a week. Each day another member arrived with an item—soda, pretzels, crackers, records. They decorated the room in blue and white crepe paper. The basic motive was not quite clear. On one wall was a large sign saying, "Go-Go-Go." On another, a larger sign: "No Smoking."

Bob's mother bought a couple dozen doughnuts, just in case. The men arrived first—four in charcoal black suits and pink shirts and two in tweeds. The girls properly followed the new, long, flat look. As the girls went down to the basement, one boy was heard to whisper, "look at that low-cut dress!" Her dress opened all the way down to her collar bone.

At one point in the party, a freckled, red-haired young man came up to the kitchen. He noticed the doughnuts and asked if he might take a few. He could, and took more than a dozen.

"Do you happen to have any peanut butter and jelly?" he asked Bob's mother.
"Why, yes. Why?"
"We thought we'd make a few hors d'oeuvres."

Halfway through the evening, the six males trooped upstairs to examine Bob's new microscope set. In some circles the fact that they left the women alone in the basement might be considered unchivalrous, but in this set it was all matter of fact. No questions asked, no female recriminations.

Later, the red-haired young man came up again.
"Happen to have any candles around?" he asked.
"Yes, why?"

"Oh, we thought we'd dance a little by candlelight."
At the end of the evening, the girls all thanked the host's mother quite properly. The red-haired boy said he had a wonderful time "and what I liked best was that you didn't interfere."

When they were all gone, Bob's father, who had been restless all evening, asked his son what they had done at the party.

"Oh, talked."
"What else?"
"Danced."
"That all?"

"Oh, we played a few kissing games. You know, pop, it's kinda fun."
And with that Bob picked up a baseball glove which happened to be under a chair and threw it in the closet, and went up to bed whistling a tune of his own making.

The only way to keep great men from believing in their own publicity is to remind them of what they were before they began to wonder themselves on what meat they thrived so mightily. Also it is good to remind them that not every word they say is sacred; that not every trick they pull is divine revelation. If maturity means obedience to the great, then we were a better country before we became mature. Maturity may be synonymous with senility.

Personally, I do not go in for character assassination because too few persons are worthy of the effort. Do I care whether a politician is an alcoholic; if his wife took in washing before he suddenly bought her a mink coat; or if a supposedly learned man never read anything more serious than a "whodunit"? It might be interesting but it is important, particularly if the official somehow manages to do his job and is not soft on Communists and does not lie more than is necessary to get elected and to stay in office?

This is a democracy which means that what the people do is ipso facto right even if it turns out to be stupid which it does sometimes happen.

Right To Criticize Stressed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said yesterday that former Republican Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, had every right to criticize the administration's government worker security program, as he did in a speech last weekend.
Eisenhower added, however, that he believes the security program is fairly well conceived. So far as he knows, he remarked, Cain has not submitted to any responsible government official any basis for his criticism.

Warren Firm Gets $7 Million Order

WARREN (AP)—Mullins Manufacturing Corp. has been awarded a $7 million contract to produce special shells for the Army Ordnance Corps.
The shells are to be produced at the company's plant here by the "koldflo" process which permits making the shells in one piece at reduced cost, according to H. M. Heckathorn, president.

Kaiser To Build

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The chemical division of Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. plans to build a $4 million plant to produce basic refractory materials at Columbia, Ohio.

D. A. Rhoades, vice president and general manager of the corporation, said construction of the plant will begin early in April and is scheduled to be completed and in operation late in the year.

Rhoades said the plant represents "a major expansion of the Kaiser chemicals division, which has been a major producer of high temperature refractory materials for the steel, glass, cement and copper industries from its three existing plants in California."

Capital Expenses For Ohio Listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio spent $63,862,592 for capital improvements during the fiscal year ended last June 30, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported yesterday.

He said that was about $10 million more than the total spent in the preceding year.

Highway funds accounted for more than $43 million of the capital improvements. The rest came from general revenue fund.

Expenditures from the general fund showed more than $13,375,000 went for buildings, $2,260,000 for land, $2,700,000 for equipment, the rest miscellaneous expenses.

Fore and Aft- and Curbside, too-

It's the style hit of the year!

You can take our word for it when we tell you this:

The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer.

To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.

That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right.

For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.

But bold new styling, of course, is just one reason for the sensational success of these great cars.

New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.

New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you far better gas mileage in normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration, but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.

So you can see that just looking isn't enough. You have to take that wheel in your hands, try that power, feel that Dynaflo take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.

We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?

RESOLUTIONS FOR BETTER LIVING

Christianity Gets Boost From Athletes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Some outstanding athletes of the past and present plan to do something to curb juvenile delinquency.

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, said they have organized as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

They plan to visit colleges and high schools in teams "in the belief that a great many prominent sports figures who want to be counted as to their Christian convictions can have a great bearing on the thinking and conduct of America youth," Mehl said.

The organization was proposed by Don McLanen, athletic director of Eastern Oklahoma A & M College, Wilburton, Okla.

Members enlisted include Doak Walker, Otto Graham, Dan Towler and Kyle Rote, professional football players; Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma football coach; Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion; Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, and former college football players Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A&M, Don Moomaw of UCLA and Jerry Coody of Baylor.

The group will have a "kickoff" meeting in Oklahoma City Jan. 31.

Youngsters Invited To Help Fox Hunt

Youngsters have been invited to join in the Washington Township fox hunt to be held Saturday. All proceeds from the hunt will be donated to the March of Dimes.

The youngsters, who will not be armed, will join the hunters in flushing out the foxes. Hunters are permitted to use shotguns only.

The hunt will begin at 9 a. m. at the Washington Township School. Lunch will be served at noon.

Pheasant, Cat Become Friends

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Almost every day, a wild pheasant flies into Mrs. Donald Currence's back yard and roosts on a tree.

Then the family cat climbs the tree—but not to chase the bird. It seems the two have become fast friends ever since the pheasant dropped in for a visit during last week's snowstorm. They share a limb together.

Women Don't Cuss?

BURSA, Turkey (AP) — Women are now being admitted free to local soccer matches. The reason? Authorities decided it would help curb swearing by male spectators at referees and players.

Cage Spotlight Focuses Action On County Tilts

With Circleville High School taking a breather this week for exams, cage action centers around the county schools.

Perhaps the top game of the week will be the clash between Williamsport and Ashville on the latter's home court. In their only other previous meeting this season, an independent game during a tournament at the Coliseum, Williamsport nosed out the Broncos by two points.

Concerning that tournament, a financial report has been issued. Bloomington and New Lexington St. Aloisius, in addition to the Deers and Broncos, each earned approximately $85.50 from the tournament.

Paid attendance for the two nights Dec. 28 and 29 totaled 1,029. Gross receipts were $699.07 and expenses $342.34. This was split four ways with St. Al's getting the extra few cents to balance it out.

Williamsport, as of late, has hit a losing streak. Sporting a previous 6-0 record, the Deers were dethroned by Scioto. Last week they were toppled by Stoutsville 68 to 54 in a non-league affair.

The Deers' ace scorer Gene Stonerock was out of action last week due to a tonsil infection. Coach Art Holliday said he expects to have Stonerock back in the lineup against Ashville.

Big doings are expected all over the county Friday night.

Home Court Advantage Fails To Hold

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the home court advantage in college basketball? It was nowhere to be found in the cold, gray stone fieldhouse at Columbia, Mo., last night as Kansas State played like it owned the joint and dumped Missouri on the already crowded upset heap.

It was a 78-67 demise for the Tigers, previously unbeaten in the Big Seven, as K-State scored on 51 per cent of its shots from the field. To further confuse the home court argument, it was just last Saturday that Missouri, No. 8 in this week's Associated Press poll, toppled the Wildcats at Manhattan, Kan., 94-85.

They also split their two-game series last season, each winning away from home.

Missouri slipped out of the Big Seven lead with the defeat, leaving Colorado (3-0) all alone in first.

There wasn't much chance for major upsets elsewhere last night and except for Amherst, which was knocked off for the first time this season by Wesleyan 62-58, all the favorites got home safe. LaSalle, ranked No. 4, disposed of West Chester (Pa.) State 85-50 while Dayton, No. 18, beat Western Kentucky 91-73, and Niagara, tied for 20th, defeated Assumption of Windsor, Canada, 99-55.

They were the only ranked teams at work officially, although Duquesne (No. 5) lost to Andrews AFB 84-70 in an exhibition.

Junior High Tourney Set For Saturday

Pickaway County's Junior High School Basketball Tournament gets under way Saturday with six games scheduled. All games are to be played at Jackson Township School.

At 1:30 p. m., Darby will meet Wayne; at 2:30 p. m., Muhlenberg faces Pickaway; at 3:30 p. m., Walnut and Monroe clash; at 7 p. m., Jackson runs into Ashville; at 8 p. m., Williamsport and Salt Creek collide; and at 9 p. m., New Holland and Scioto meet in the final game of the long day.

On Monday, the winner of the Darby-Wayne tilt will meet Washington at 6 p. m. The winners of the Muhlenberg-Pickaway and Walnut-Monroe contests will face each other at 7 p. m.

At 8 p. m., the winners of the Jackson-Ashville and Williamsport-Salt Creek games will meet. In the day's finale, at 9 p. m., Atlanta will take on the victor of the New Holland-Scioto clash.

Semi-finals will be held on Wednesday starting at 7 p. m. Finals will take place Jan. 29. The consolation tilt will start at 7 p. m. and the championship game at 8 p. m.

John McPherson is tournament manager.

Houston Signs Kansas Coach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bill Meek, a Tennessee single-wing graduate who teaches the split T, is leaving Kansas State to accept a five-year contract as head coach at the University of Houston.

Corbin J. Robertson, chairman of the university's Athletic Council, said the 33-year-old Meek will receive "in the neighborhood of $15,000 a year."

At Manhattan, Kan., Dr. James A. McCain, Kansas State president, expressed gratitude for Meek's four years of service there but said the college, "under our policy" could not match the Houston offer.

Ex-Champ Leads All-Star Keglers

CHICAGO (AP) — Junie McMahon of Fair Lawn, N. J., twice winner of the National All-Star bowling tournament, early today led the 14 qualifiers into the finals.

McMahon topped the 46 qualifiers, with a score of 7,563, for 36 games. He held a slim two pin lead over Ed Lubanski of Detroit. McMahon took over the No. 1 spot early yesterday with 1,338 and then finished his night's round of six games with 1,259.

68 Trotters Set For Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP) — A total of 68 three-year-old trotters, including the highly regarded Scott Frost, have been kept eligible for the 30th Hambletonian but the value of the Aug. 3 renewal of the sulky classic may fall below $100,000 for the first time since 1952. Last year, with 87 eligible as of Jan. 1, the race has a value of $106,830. And in 1953 the gross value was $115,000. Depending on how many start, this year's race figures to be worth about $92,000.

Californian Paces Women Bowlers

CHICAGO (AP) — Merle Matthews, Long Beach, Calif., stenographer, early today led the field of 46 women qualifiers into the match play competition in the National

All-Star bowling tournament. Miss Matthews, a leader in the tourney since Sunday, posted a 24-game total of 4,679, to top the 14 finalists who will begin their match play today. Another Californian, Peggy Farley, of Panorama City, trailed by only 43 points, with 4,636 for 24 games.

Local High School Driver Training Course In 9th Semester

AAA Survey Shows 16-24 Age Group Worst In Accidents

(First of Two Articles)

Although the student driver training course at Circleville High School is in its ninth semester, only three of the students who have taken the course have been involved in accidents, according to Al Gabriel.

Gabriel, CHS instructor who teaches the course, points to this with pride as he explained the setup at the local high school. He estimated that an average of 20 students enroll in the course each semester.

County schools, seven of them, began their driver training courses even before CHS. George McDowell, county superintendent of schools, said these were started five or six years ago.

In all cases, both county and city, cars have been donated. In some instances, even the gas and oil is supplied free.

WHAT IS the reason for driver training? The American Automobile Assn. explains:

"The 16-24 age group has the worst accident record, on the basis of mileage driven, of any age group—five times as bad as that of drivers 45-50 years of age.

"Sound driver education programs in high schools offer the best means of improving this condition.

"Every 16-year old in the high schools of the country could be given sound training to drive at a cost of only 2 per cent of the annual national loss of $3,950,000,000 in traffic accidents. This is approximately $34 per student."

The AAA further feels that parents should not undertake to teach their children to drive. The group feels that driver training courses in high schools will result in students averaging only half as many accidents as those who learn from their parents.

At CHS, for example, each student is not only given practical instruction in a car but also must do classroom work on the subject. Gabriel pointed out that his students must complete a notebook on some phase of driving and turn it in at the end of the semester.

"WE TRY TO GET the students out in the car at least every third day," he said. "By the end of the semester and before the driver's test is given the student will have had 6½ hours behind the wheel." Gabriel conducts two classes a day in driver training. He was given full charge of the program because his thesis for his masters degree was on driver training.

Although most of the students are "beginners", a few licensed drivers are taken in if there is room. All who pass the course are presented with a certificate of proficiency. Some insurance companies will grant lower rates to young drivers having such a certificate.

Students are given a regular driver's test by Gabriel. Those who pass receive standard driver's licenses.

During the course, students study the traffic laws, general mechanics of a car, law enforcement and traffic statistics. They use a regular textbook in their study.

AT THE PRESENT TIME, most of the courses are limited to seniors. However, due to a recent law change which allows licenses to student drivers who are 16 and above, classes have been opened up to other students.

(In the second installment, some of the problems in driver training are explained. Also, one CHS student tells how she feels about the course.)

Cop Said Now Sane

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Harry A. Hanna says Buck R. Ames, a former policeman, had regained his reason and probably will stand trial for the murder of his wife, Mildred Ames, 41, was charged in 1950 with the shooting but was then sent to Lima State Hospital.

Pair Makes 40 Trips To Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerome Hooker, 57, and his 56-year-old wife are back together again today after facing each other 40 times in Circuit Court since she filed a separate maintenance suit against him.

Mrs. Hooker's attorney told the court yesterday they "got to like each other again because they were seeing each other so often. As a result, the couple has made up." Judge Charles S. Dougherty dismissed the suit.

Flu Hits Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—School Supt. Mark C. Schinnerer said yesterday influenza had struck as much as 15 per cent of the students in some schools. Among those hardest hit was John Marshall, where about 400 pupils were absent out of a total enrollment of 2,800.

Dr. Sheppard Allowed To Attend Rites

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard joins with his two brothers today for the second family burial in 10 days—the third in six months.

On a snow-flecked knoll overlooking a lagoon in Sunset Memorial Park, their 64-year-old father, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, will be placed next to his wife Ethel, who shot herself to death Jan. 7.

The eldest of the osteopath family died Tuesday night of a serious respiratory ailment. His sons said he "lost his will to live" after the suicide of his wife, who left a note saying she "could not go on without Dad."

Shackled to a deputy as he was at his mother's funeral, their youngest son, 31-year-old Samuel, will be taken under guard to a

Lakewood mortuary, and later to the cemetery, 10 miles away.

Both his parents were ailing during his nine-week trial for the July 4 bludgeon-murder of his pregnant wife Marilyn. Sheppard is appealing his second-degree murder conviction.

The Rev. Alfred C. Kreke, pastor of the Bay Methodist Church, officiates at the private services today. It was the Rev. Mr. Kreke who delivered the funeral sermons at the rites for the young osteopath's mother, and six months ago, for his wife.

The family requested that the time of the services be kept confidential to prevent crowds of curious onlookers from appearing.

A-Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate House Atomic Energy Committee will hold a two-week series of hearings on progress in the atomic energy industry. They will start Jan. 31.

'Picture' Taken

Ohio Poll Law Change Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says the state legislature may be asked to change Ohio election laws because of plans to hold national political conventions later than usual.

Democrats and Republicans have talked about holding national conventions late in August or in September. They customarily hold them in mid-summer.

Brown said later conventions might cause Ohioans outside the continental United States to lose their vote.

Brown said Ohio law requires

him to prescribe ballots 75 days before election, and requires election boards to have ballots available for Ohio voters outside the U. S. 60 days prior to election.

Milk Output Up

Lumbermen Elect

CLEVELAND (AP)—Warren E. Carter of Akron was elected yesterday to succeed Ralph C. Lutz of Lexington as president of the Ohio Assn. of Lumber Dealers.
